MICHAEL J. HOWLETT, winner of the Democratic governor nomination Tuesday.

Howlett tops Gov. Walker; Dixon wins

Aided by a big Cook County turnout and by his image as an efficient administrator, Illinois Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett on Tuesday defeated Gov. Daniel Walker for the Democratic nomination as governor.

Virtually complete returns show Howlett winning 795,494 to 682,141.

Gov. Walker declined at a news conference yesterday to back Howlett, and hinted he may run as an independent to create a three-way November race. Cong. Paul Simon, whom Walker defeated for the governor nomination four years ago, urged Walker to support all Democratic nominees.

LEADING VOTE-GETTER Alan J. Dixon. The current state treasurer, a Belleville resident, on Tuesday won the Democratic nomination as secretary of state.

Cronin ignoring school proposals

The Madison Board of Education Tuesday night expressed the belief that Dr. Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, and his staff, are not reading or studying reports and plans already sent to them for desegregation procedures in Madison schools.

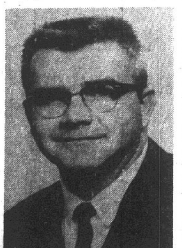

"The board feels that somehow we must make sure we have the attention of Dr. Cronin and his staff as they have never replied directly to our points, plans and proposals," John Falchiff, superintendent of schools, said.

"A letter from Dr. Cronin refers to our plan submitted in 1973, which the state found unacceptable.

"We sent the Illinois Equal Education Opportunity (EEO) plan on Sept. 23, 1975, and to the Capital Development Board on its approval guidelines on Nov. 26, 1975.

Mayor Schuler heads Bi-State

PAUL SCHULER
Bi-State Agency Chairman

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler was elected Wednesday as chairman of the board of commissioners of the Bi-State Development Agency.

He succeeds John G. Brawley, a Missouri commissioner who was elected vice-chairman in yesterday's voting.

Mayor Schuler defeated John E. Shuff of Belleville in a bid for the chairman's post. Both Schuler's and Shuff's names were submitted to the board by the nominating committee.

Voting was by secret ballot. Schuler's chairmanship becomes effective immediately since the selection of a chairman had been delayed from Jan. 1, beginning of the agency's fiscal year. The chairmanship is for a two-year term. Shuff declined to serve as

Lucco, McPike, Judge Calvo win in primary voting

Joe E. Lucco, Edwardsville incumbent, and Jim McPike, Alton challenger, captured hotly-contested Illinois House nominations in Democratic primary voting Tuesday in the 56th Legislative District.

Sam W. Wolf, Granite Cityan appointed to the legislature in October, garnered 14,793 votes but was topped by Lucco's 21,486 and McPike's 17,703.

Louis Whitsell, Nameoki Township, totaled 10,630 and Mrs. Anita Kendall Eitfitt, Granite City, received 8,525 in the cumulative voting.

The two nominations virtually assure election of Lucco and McPike in November due to the preponderance of Democratic voters in the district.

Two unopposed Republican nominees will seek the other state representative position—Rep. Everett Steele, Glen Carbon, who received 9,083 votes, and Mrs. Eva McDonald, Alton, 5,154.

The vacancy that will continue to be filled this year by Rep. Wolf was created by the elevation of Horace Calvo to a circuit judge of the Third Circuit.

Judge Calvo staved off a strong Democratic primary challenge Tuesday from Attorney Norman H. Kinder, 16,686 to 14,773. Both are Granite Cityans. No Republican filed for nomination as judge.

State Senator Vadalabene, Democrat, was renominated with 13,902 votes. For the Republican Senate nomination, Glenn Wilson attracted 2,956 votes to defeat Miss Gertraude C. Wittig, who had 1,027. Both of the GOP contenders are professors at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Seeking a 17th consecutive two-year term, Congressman Melvin Price of the 23rd Illinois

RENOMINATED. State Representative Joe E. Lucco, Edwardsville, won a Democratic nomination for that office Tuesday.

REPRESENTATIVE NOMINEE Jim McPike. The Alton sales engineer gained one of the two Democratic nominations to the Illinois House.

JUDGE NOMINEE. Circuit Judge Horace L. Calvo, an appointee, winner of the Democratic nomination Tuesday for election to the position.

Byron, Portell gain nominations

STATE'S ATTORNEY Democratic nominee in Madison County is the incumbent, Nicholas G. Byron.

WILLARD V. PORTELL. The veteran circuit court clerk won Democratic renomination Tuesday.

Because overworked county statisticians failed to tally the unofficial vote listings for a "withdrawn" candidate, it remains undetermined how easily State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, Edwardsville, gained the Democratic nomination Tuesday.

The official county election canvass will provide the missing figures.

Byron garnered 14,001 votes to 6,587 for Steve Maragides of Granite City. William E. Johnson of Glen Carbon, who remained on the ballot although announcing he desired no votes, apparently ran a strong second to Byron.

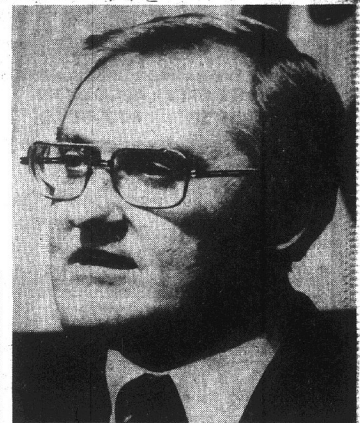

Gaining Democratic renomination decisively Tuesday, Circuit Clerk Willard V. Portell of Collinsville defeated James E. Greene of Alton 22,511 to 8,668.

Mrs. Dallas Burke, Madison County coroner, attracted 28,078 votes. The tabulating staff omitted exact tallies for County Auditor John L. Kravynuk and Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas.

Long Republican candidate for a county office was Hugh R. Hairston of Venice. He received 4,872 votes countywide for coroner.

Weather outlook for this region

JAMES R. THOMPSON, Republican primary winner for governor of Illinois.

Geo. Wallace carries area and county

Although outdistanced statewide by former Georgia Governor Jimmy Carter in Tuesday's Illinois Democratic Presidential primary, Alabama Governor George C. Wallace showed considerable voting strength here.

Gov. Wallace led in Madison County with 14,789 and the Quad-Cities with 6,058, while Carter garnered 14,609 in the county and 5,518 in this community.

Other Democratic aspirants on the statewide preferential ballot were Fred R. Harris, 2,337 in Madison County and 688 here, and Sargent Shriver, 3,000 and 1,084.

Wallace and Carter equally divided Granite City's 32 precincts.

Road condemning authority sought

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

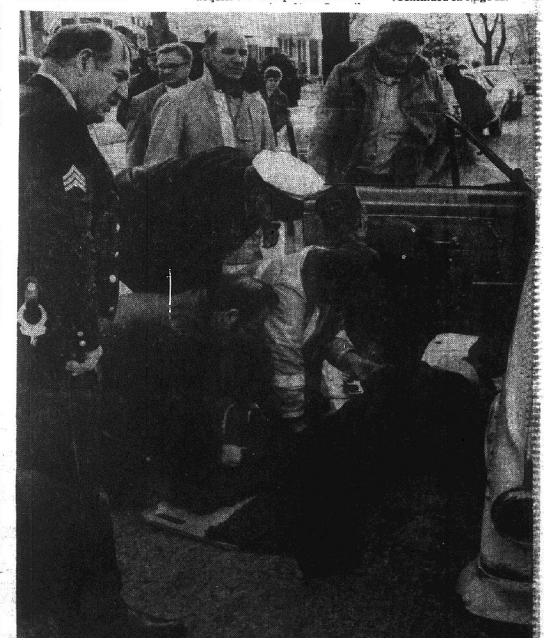

An ordinance that would give Granite City the right of eminent domain to acquire property for right-of-way needed in road and highway projects before court proceedings are held to determine cost of the acquisition was placed on first reading by the City Council Monday night.

The bill will be offered for final passage in the regular council meeting March 22 under the city's "home rule" authority.

Mayor Paul Schuler said the ordinance should clear the way for acquisition of a single parcel NEAR-TRAGEDY ON ELECTION DAY. James Evans, 60, of 3040 Iowa St., lies on East 27th Street at Nameoki Road at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday. As he was steering and helping to push his auto after a collision, he was pinned between his and another car. Police and firemen aided him, and it was later determined at St. Elizabeth Hospital that he was not seriously hurt.

District garden clubs to meet

The annual meeting of District V Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., will be held at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Fairview Heights, Thursday, March 25, it was announced at last week's meeting of the Cloverview Garden Club.

Mrs. B. J. Iselhardt of Edwardsville, past district director and widely known flower arranger, will present the program, assisted by Mrs. Homer Corral, Shiloh Valley Garden Club will host the event.

Mrs. John Lentz was hostess to the local club at the Grand Cafe. Mrs. Richard Branding, president, was in charge and Mrs. B. C. O'Neill led the club collect.

A District V executive board meeting, scheduled today at Scott Air Force Base, will be attended by Mrs. Branding and Mrs. O'Neill, awards chairman, it was reported.

Mrs. Glenn E. Hansen, "Plant Illinois" chairman, urged garden clubs throughout the state to join in Liberty Tree

The Alabamian had edges over Carter at 8-3 at Nameoki precincts and 6-1 in Chouteau Township, but Carter won Venice Township (Venice-Madison) precincts, 8-3.
On the Republican side, President Gerald Ford led challenger Ronald Reagan, former California governor, 4,982 to 3,589 in Madison County and 6-1 in the Quad-Cities. Lar Daly polled 146 and two Reagan won at seven Granite City, four Nameoki, two Chouteau precincts and one Venice Township precinct. He and Mr. Ford tied in three Granite City, one Chouteau, one Venice and two Nameoki precincts.

Illinois Governor Daniel Walker failed in his hopes for a big Presidential delegation, as well as losing the gubernatorial nomination, but ran impressively in the Quad-Cities, while carrying Madison County 21,872 to 15,902 over governor-nominee Michael J. DuSard. Gov. Walker led in all Granite City, Nameoki and Chouteau precincts.

The incumbent also won at seven of 11 precincts in Venice Township, but Howlett narrowly captured that township, 1,501-1,551.

James R. Thompson, Republican governor nominee, outdistanced Richard H. Cooper in Madison County 5,948 to 1,718. For lieutenant governor to run with Thompson, St. Clair County Sheriff Dave Anderson outpolled Mrs. Joan C. Anderson in this county, 4,929 to 2,518.

Of three unopposed state GOP candidates, Attorney General William J. Scott received 7,223 votes in this county. Comptroller George W. Lindberg, 6,809 and William C. Harris, secretary of state nominee, 6,910.

Successful Democratic state candidates also won in Madison County.

Lieutenant Governor Neil F. Hartigan led Mrs. Joanne H. Alter 26,782 to 13,116; State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, running for the secretary of state nomination, trounced Sen. Vince Demuzio 24,502 to 9,412.

For the Democratic attorney general nomination, Illinois Senate President Cecil A. Partridge led Ronald E. Stacker 16,522 to 15,891 in this county, and for state comptroller, Dr. Michael J. Bakalis outdistanced Roland W. Burris 21,550 to 12,711.

Sunset Hill cemetery closed by picket line

Sunset Hill Cemetery on Route 157 at the top of Sunset Hill in Edwardsville Township was closed Monday when two nonunion employees set up a picket line, seeking union recognition.

Bob Karandjef, sexton of the cemetery, said the matter has been referred to the cemetery's attorney, Roland Griffith, a former Madison County state's attorney.

Karandjef said he has no comment on the financial issue, but said the men do have running water and heat in another building. He said a space heater notified local funeral home directors that the cemetery is closed until the issue is decided.

Paul and Steve Sampson, who are the only strikers, say they want more pay and better working conditions. They say they are paid $2.42 per hour and work mostly in the cemetery's tool shed where there is no running water and inadequate and unsafe heat.

Karandjef said he has no comment on the financial issue, but said the men do have running water and heat in another building. He said a space heater has been removed from the tool shed, where it was placed at the employees' request.

The two Sampsons say they are recognized by the International Labor Union of North America, Local 498, Belleville, but are not members.

Griffith has commented Sunset Hill serves primarily the Granite City area and he feels he should deal with the labor unions in Granite City.

Meanwhile, local funeral directors are being requested to postpone burials slated for Sunset Hill.

Lazerson is acting provost

Earl E. Lazerson, dean of the School of Science and Technology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been named acting vice-president and provost of the university, subject to ratification by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Acting President Andrew J. Kochman said he was pleased with the appointment. Lazerson, 57, made the announcement Wednesday. The SIU Board designated Kochman as acting president last Thursday, following the death of President John S. Rendleman March 4.

Pres. Kochman said steps are being taken in the School of Science and Technology to recommend an acting dean to serve while Lazerson is acting vice-president and provost.

A Presidential Search Committee was established by the Board of Trustees, and Board Chairman Ivan A. Elliott Jr. said he anticipates the search process will require a minimum of six months.

Lazerson, a professor of mathematical studies, has been a member of the SIUE faculty since 1969. He was named chairman of the department of mathematics in March 1972 and dean of the School of Science and Technology in May 1973.

A native of Detroit, Lazerson earned a bachelor of science degree from Wayne State University and a master of arts degree from the University of Michigan. He is a former Fulbright Scholar at the University of Leiden in the Netherlands.

Before joining the SIUE faculty, Lazerson served on the faculties of Washington University, Brandeis University and the University of Michigan. He is a former researcher for the Institute for Systems Analysis in Princeton, N.J.

Lazerson is married and the father of two sons. The family resides in Edwardsville.

Equal Employment leaders here Sunday

Official representatives from the Office of the Chairman, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Washington, D.C., will meet at 1 p.m. Sunday with Hispanic leaders of the bi-state metropolitan area, at the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall, 1801 Spruce St.

Robert J. Roman, special assistant to the EEOC chairman, and Tony De Dios, national EEOC Spanish-speaking program coordinator, will review the special employment concerns of the Illinois area and West Hispanic community.

The public is invited to attend a question and answer session will be held during the meeting. EEOC has responsibility over all private employers of 15 or more persons, public and private educational institutions, state and local governments and public and private employment agencies. Hispanic representation in policy or decision-making positions in all these areas is insignificant or nonexistent, a local spokesman reported. He stated that the total minority representation in the entire EEOC is 66 per cent, Hispanics make up only 10 per cent of the Sunday's meeting was prompted due to numerous complaints of discrimination by Hispanics, and inappropriate investigation by the EEOC, the spokesman said. Questions on discrimination also have been received from persons other than Hispanics. There is no local office in the Illinois bi-state area where grievances can be registered, he added.

The Greater St. Louis Chapter of IMAGC will conduct the meeting in cooperation with the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City.

Harry McCoy wounded fatally

Harry McCoy, 81, of 2531 East 24th St. was found by his son, Raymond McCoy, at 12:36 p.m. Tuesday, lying across a bed with an apparent gunshot wound to the left side of the chest.

Mr. McCoy was still alive and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner Randall Irwin at 1:10 p.m., according to police.

His son told police that he and his wife, Leona, went to the McCoy home and when the son returned to his car for his wife, his father walked into the bedroom.

McCoy told officers his father had been depressed and despondent since his wife, Annis McCoy, entered Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

Police said they found a long-barreled, blue-steel .22 caliber pistol on the floor near Mr. McCoy's feet. The gun contained five bullets and one spent casing.

Hospital reports said he arrived there with a small puncture wound to the left chest area. There will be an inquest.

Mr. McCoy was born in Paxton, Ill., and had resided in Peoria before moving to this area 59 years ago.

He had worked as a foreman in the open hearth department at General Steel Industries for 39 years, retiring in 1960.

Mr. McCoy was a member of Masonic Triple Lodge 835 and Gabriel Shrine 78, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. John (Daisy) Gomer, St. Petersburg, Fla.; seven grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Howlett

"I don't believe one man should run the whole state," Thompson said Wednesday in noting Walker's allegations that Howlett would carry out the wishes of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

Most impressive Democratic primary winner was State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon of Belleville, who leads State Sen. Vince Demuzio of Carlinville 64,517 to 193,503.

Dr. Michael J. Bakalis defeated Roland W. Burris for the state comptroller nomination 586,884 to 228,129.

Attorney general nominee of the Democrats is Senate President Cecil A. Partridge, 670,897 to 400,143 over Ronald Stacker.

Lieutenant Governor Neil F. Hartigan defeated Mrs. Joanne H. Alter 764,821 to 384,822.

For the Republican lieutenant governor nomination, St. Clair County Sheriff O'Neal defeated Mrs. Joan G. Anderson 329,986 to 249,905.

Republicans nominated without opposition Tuesday were William C. Harris, Pontiac, Illinois Senate minority leader, for secretary of state, and Attorney General William J. Scott and State Comptroller George W. Lindberg.

President Gerald Ford defeated Ronald Reagan in the statewide preferential primary, 449,471 to 306,501.

Democratic Presidential honors went to Jimmy Carter with 621,988 to Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's 356,676, Sargent Shriver's 207,016 and Fred Harris' 97,183.

Pres. Ford is expected to get 70 of the 96 Republican delegates, with 13 for Reagan and 13 uncommitted.

Carter leads for 53 Democratic delegates out of the 84 candidates who designated him.

Eighty-eight delegates pledged to U.S. Senator Adlai Stevenson III appear to have won, as well as a number of uncommitted delegates friendly to the Illinois State Democratic Central Committee. Gov. Walker may have garnered only one Presidential delegate.

In the 23rd Congressional District, an uncommitted slate appeared to have taken most of the six delegate posts. The group includes State Treasurer Dixon and Charles Hester, owner of Charlie's Restaurant, Granite City.

Fire interrupts voting at poll

Voting in the Illinois primary elections Tuesday at the East Side Levee and Sanitary District Office, 1707 Madison Ave., which served as Granite City Precinct One polling place, was temporarily interrupted at 5 p.m. when a swift in a fluorescent ceiling light caught fire and shorted out a second switch.

Fire Department authorities reported $35 damage to the light and ceiling. Firemen were there 55 minutes.

Rites for mother of GC resident

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Quin, Mo. for Mrs. Eva Pearl Black, 71, of 2713 Black Lane, Canteen Township, mother of Mrs. Ralph (Helen) Johnson of Granite City.

She died Sunday at her home. Other survivors include five sons; four sisters and a brother.

Rape charge filed

Charles L. Shemwell, 48, Rural Route Two, Box 948, Granite City, was arrested Monday at a home in the 2400 block of Center Street, and was charged by Madison County authorities with rape. He was released after posting a $20,000 property bond.

Madison County Sheriff's Department investigators say they are checking a report by a 19-year-old married woman. She reported that a man offered her a ride from a Granite City tavern several times until she finally accepted at about 11 p.m. Sunday.

She said that instead of driving her home, the man turned north and drove to a site near Wood River. Deputies believe it was near Route 203 and the Hartford Canal. The man tore her clothing off and raped her three or four times before driving her home, she related.

When they approached her home, she said she ran inside and watched her husband find she had been raped and that the man was following her inside. The husband said he grabbed a nearby gallon bottle and struck the man's face as he walked through the doorway of the house, knocking him to the floor.

Police were called and found Shemwell in the home with cuts to his face. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated and released on police custody.

Granite City police turned him over to Madison County sheriff's deputies, who filed the rape charge.

Lone robber gets '90

An apparent lone robber escaped with a money bag containing $75 cash and a changer containing $15 in coins at the Olympic Service Station, 26th and Adams Streets. The money was taken from Don Boyce, an attendant, as he was walking toward his car at 9 p.m. Tuesday after closing the station.

Boyce told authorities he had just locked the station's door and was walking toward his car when a voice shouted "halt." He said he continued toward his auto, thinking someone was kidding him, but then halted when the voice commanded, "Halt, I mean it."

The attendant said he was instructed to toss the money bag toward the rear of the station and "don't turn around."

Upon complying with the robber's wishes, Boyce was ordered to get into his car and drive away. He drove to the police station and reported the robbery.

Woman attacked, $40 cash taken

Carolyn Smith, 23rd Street and Nameoki Road Trailer Court, reported to authorities at 9:45 p.m. Tuesday that she was walking home after using a nearby telephone when two persons grabbed her from behind and threw her to the ground before taking her purse containing $40 cash and food stamps.

She described the assailants, who fled on foot through the trailer court, as one being about five feet, eight inches tall, about 160 pounds, with long brown hair, and the other as being about five feet, seven and 168 pounds. Both were wearing blue jean jackets and blue jeans.

Carbon monoxide cause of death

A verdict of accidental death as a result of carbon monoxide poisoning was returned in an inquest conducted by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner in the deaths of Eva Marie (Chase) Chase, 18, and David L. David, 27, both of Granite City.

The couple were found Jan. 31, seated in a parked auto on the Merchants Dispatch Transportation Corp. Road, six-tenths of a mile north of Franko Lane, near Mitchell.

Oaklawn residents want subdivision streets resurfaced

A petition by more than 70 residents of the Oaklawn Terrace subdivision for resurfacing of three subdivision streets was filed with the Granite City Council Monday night during a discussion in which several aldermen said they favored an equal sharing of street improvement funds among the city's seven wards.

William Terrell, acting as spokesman for a large delegation of Oaklawn Terrace residents who attended the council session, told the aldermen that Oaklawn Avenue and Janday and Terrace lanes are broken and "full of holes" and that area residents can't even "jog or ride bicycles in the streets."

Seventh Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes told the council that "These people out there need help. They pay high taxes. They have a nice subdivision and the streets are falling apart. It's time we do something for them."

In response to a question by Dawes, City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said that an asphalt overlay would be the best improvement for those streets.

Terrell told the council, "We have residents here to get this matter before you. We know the council is sympathetic to the cause, but apparently not sympathetic enough because nothing has been done."

Terrell said he had talked about the proposed resurfacing to the city engineer and was told it would cost about $30,000.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward noted that "some of these streets (in the subdivision) are not through streets. We hear this talk of jogging and bicycles but we've got streets in other parts of the city that you can't drive on."

Whitmer said that he was not opposed to the Oaklawn area request, but that motor fuel tax funds for street improvements should be divided among the city's seven wards, with the aldermen deciding on what improvements they want to make in their respective wards.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward said "there's no reason to argue this. It gets down to the point that if we have the money for this we should do it."

On a motion by Dawes, the petition was referred to the Street and Alley Committee and the two aldermen of the precinct, Dawes and Coleman.

Fleet Trojans in initial track meet

Trojan track and field coach Charles Steptoe believes the 1976 Madison High School team will have a successful campaign. The season will start at home tomorrow at 4 p.m. with Dupo.

The coach is confident despite a noticeable weakness in field events.

Of the 26 athletes to compete this season, only five—Robert Cedric Wilson, Jeff Thompson, Raymond Finch, Mark Giles and Tim Roberts—are specializing in the pole vault, discus throw, shot put, triple jump, high jump or long jump events.

Five other Trojans will divide their talents between track and field events to help pick up the slack. They are Curtis Bradley, Duane Bochantin, Alfred Crawford, Dwight Chillers and Rodney Williams.

Wilson and Giles, both senior lettermen, and Thompson, a junior, will handle the shot put and discus exclusively, while Finch and Roberts will concentrate on vaulting competition.

Senior Bradley will lend a hand in the pole vault as well as participating in dashes and sprinting with the mile-relay squad.

Bochantin, a junior, is slated for shot put duties as well as competing in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Crawford, a junior, will see action in long and triple jumps and middle distance running events.

Campbell to coach baseball Trojans

Former Trojan baseball standout Bill Campbell has returned to his alma mater where he will lead Madison High School into competition for the 1976 season, with John Paskus assisting him in the sport.

Madison has 16 games slated, including four doubleheaders, and six home games to be played at Trojan Field.

The Trojans season card, which does not include other Quad-City high schools, is:

MARCH
29—Belleville Altoff here 4 p.m.
30—at Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marine) 4 p.m.
1—at St. Paul of Highland 4 p.m.
2—at Roxana 4 p.m.
3—at Hillsboro doubleheader 11 a.m.

will compete in the dashes, shot put and discus.

Junior Williams will put his basketball jumping skills to work in high and triple jump events as well as bounding over the low hurdles.

Madison's track contenders are loaded with talent, including sprinter James Heard, who in the last football season gained more than 1,000 yards rushing, and Junior Von Dee Walker, the only remaining member of last year's state-placing 440-yard relay squad.

Both athletes will see action in 100 and 220 dashes, and Walker will head Madison's 440, 880 and mile relay teams along with Darryl Hampton, Marcus White, Ernest Davenport, Michael Dandridge, Mike Terrell and Gary Brooks.

Walker will be a member of the newly added two-mile relay squad, which may include Robert Booker, Cecil Cross, Derek Gregory, Mike Terrell, Freddie King and Charles Caldwell.

Taking to the hurdles, both 120-yard high hurdles and 330-yard low hurdles will be Dandridge, Dale Woodson and Williams.

Steptoe said that Assistant Coach Al Collins will have the responsibility for field event athletes, and that Assistant Coach George Tyus, a 1970-71 season sprint champion at Madison High, will work with the Trojans in dashes and in middle and distance running events.

SPRINTING INTO ACTION here Friday against Dupo High School will be these four Madison High School runners to help open the Trojans' 1976 regular track and field season. Working out on a windy and chilly day, as Coach Charles Steptoe fires the starter's pistol, are (from left) Mike Terrell, Dale Woodson, James Heard and Marcus White. Terrell and Heard starred in football in the past season and Woodson is a transfer student from St. Louis Southwest High School.

Guelker on commission for Olympics

Robert M. Guelker, athletic director and varsity soccer coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has accepted an invitation to serve on the President's Commission on Olympic Sports for its study of soccer.

With his acceptance, Guelker agreed to attend two consultation meetings and, in addition, the commission will hold a public hearing at which six witnesses will give their recommendations. The two meetings are March 22 and 23 at Washington, D.C.

Members of the commission also will attend the first game of the Bicentennial Soccer Tournament between the United States and Italy, slated for the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium in Washington May 22.

Guelker coached the last (1972) U.S. Olympic soccer squad in the "round-of-16" in the Olympic Games held at Munich, Germany. It was the first time a U.S. team had ever advanced that far in the international playoffs.

The team will begin its 1976 season on the road at Triad High School Wednesday, March 31. Although the squad has five returning seniors from last year's team, Coach Paula Domino, second from right, believes in stressing

MADISON HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS aspirants. The team will begin its 1976 season on the road at Triad High School Wednesday, March 31. Although the squad has five returning seniors from last year's team, Coach Paula Domino, second from right, believes in stressing

Boys' tennis team at MHS features female coach, player

Miss Paula Domino has the distinction of being the first woman statewide to head a high school boys' tennis program, having been appointed by the Madison Board of Education last year. And she has hopes of possibly building a championship team at Madison High this spring.

"We are in the process of determining positions now in doubles and singles," she says, "but we should be strong, since we have five returning lettermen on the squad."

The five, all seniors, are Mike Woods, Mike Terrell, Ron Jones, Patrick Winston and William Garrett.

Miss Domino notes that Woods is effective close to the net, with ability to cut off shots from opposing teams, and that Terrell has a super forehand and serve.

The other three lettermen are expected to be part of the doubles competition due to their speed and agility.

Four other members of the team also are expected to fit into the program with little difficulty, including Freshman Barry Hill. He is left-handed, and the coach feels this should give him an advantage in the sport.

Junior Wally Rajenski is competing for the first time, and two athletes who participated on a limited basis last season have returned this year to play a full schedule—Sophomore Leonard Leniewski and Miss Robin Dutko, a unique member of the "boys' team."

Coach Domino says Miss Dutko will add strength to the squad in doubles competition due to her ability on ground stroke shots.

The Trojan team has 13 meets scheduled for the season, which starts on Wednesday, March 31. Miss Domino believes the schedule will grow in future seasons.

All home meets will be held at the courts at Madison High School.

Madison's 1976 tennis schedule is:

Red Devil cagers — 22 straight wins

The Venice Red Devils climb toward repeating the Class A state basketball championship by running smoothly with 22 straight wins until Coach Richard Essington's team bowed to cross-town rival Madison in the 1976 Freeburg regional title contest, preventing Venice from capturing a fourth straight regional crown.

When the Illinois High School Association divided schools into two classes—AA for 750 or less students and AA for 751 or more—during the 1971-72 season, Venice failed to reach the regional final contest.

But in subsequent years the Red Devils went on to place third in the state in 1972-73 and win sectional honors before losing in 1973-74 super-sectional action to eventual state champion Lawrenceville.

During the 1974-75 cage season, Venice lost only to Madison and St. Louis Summer enroute to taking the state title.

The Red Devils, in posting a 24-2 record this season, suffered setbacks only to East St. Louis Lincoln and to Madison.

Venice won its opening two contests of the season just ended—90-37 over Columbia and 61-41 over Madison—before losing 67-66 to East St. Louis Lincoln in early December.

Essington's Red Devils then put together a 22-game winning streak which included championships of the Freeburg-Columbia Christmas tournament and the Sparta Mid-Winter Classic.

Venice's 22 wins were: 99-36 over Valmeyer, 29-16 over St. Louis Vashon, 73-47 over Steelville, 73-69 over New Athens, 78-66 over Lebanon, 87-79 over Quincy Notre Dame, 72-38 over Altamont, 95-57 over Marissa, 76-47 over Waterloo, 63-46 over St. Louis Summer.

67-56 over Freeburg, 71-45 over Gibault of Waterloo, 93-53 over East St. Louis Assumption, 66-44 over Marquette of Alton, 69-41 over St. Louis Summer, 90-42 over St. Paul of Highland, 80-64 over East St. Louis Lincoln, 87-51 over Marquette of Alton, 73-66 over Belleville's St. Henry Prep, 68-54 over GCHS South, 77-59 over Assumption and 72-48 over St. Henry Prep.

Pre-season fears were expressed by Essington as to the team's rebounding abilities, since the team's tallest player was Senior Jaffe Woolfolk, a 6-3 transfer student.

"If we can successfully check the opponents at the boards, we'll be good," he commented. Venice not only held its own against opposing schools during the campaign, but sparkling performances in 20 contests, including its final seven games of the season.

In one contest during the Sparta tournament, the Red Devils pulled down 55 rebounds to Marissa's 10.

With only 12 players on the team roster, Venice lacked depth compared to other schools, but sparkling performances by the starters overhauled the handicap.

Venice tallied a total of 2,042 points, 971 field goals and 389 free throws, and was led in individual scoring by Woolfolk's 517 points.

Three other seniors, who were members of last year's state championship team, helped provide the bulk of Venice's points—Rene Gardner with 484, James Turner 335 and James Crowder, 276.

Seeing action also were Freshman Ronald Salmond with 142 points, Junior Lark Arnold 135, Sophomore Ricky Salmond 126, Junior Venice Gowan and Senior Tim Walker 15 each, Junior Bryan Mathis 15, Sophomore Charles Cotton 9 and Freshman Anthony Wise with eight points.

Awards will be presented to the school's Steeler basketball teams, including the varsity squad, which posted a 13-12 record this season with Coach William "Bill" Ohlendorf at the helm.

State Park police suspended

A public meeting has been called for 7 p.m. today in the State Park Community Building to assess public sentiment on the weekend and suspensions of all commissions for the State Park special police unit and the ouster of the chief and assistant chief.

Politics is believed to have played a major role in a division within the special police unit which was reactivated in early January with the assistance of a $9,500 grant from Nameki Township.

A Bantam "A" Division tourney gets underway at 5:30 p.m. Saturday with Decatur meeting Peoria, and Peoria tackling P&S Amusement at 6:45 p.m. Losers will play for consolation honors at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, and winners in a title clash at 5 p.m. Sunday.

North's nine ready to open

Granite City High School North's baseball squad will open its 1976 campaign on the diamond at DuPont High School at 4 p.m. Monday, the first of a five-game schedule slated for next week.

Facing a 22 game season schedule which includes only three doubleheaders, Steeler mentor Robert "Bob" Stegemeier will field a relatively inexperienced team with only three returning lettermen—Seniors Michael Davis, David Goodyear and Richard Schmidt.

Schmidt, who led the team in batting last season with a .373 average, is also the only returning starter.

TRAVELING SQUAD FOR COUGAR NINE IN SOUTH
The 19-man traveling squad of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team has been announced by Coach Roy E. Lee as the Cougars prepare to head south to Texas for their spring vacation break tomorrow.

Veterans named were Jim Dohr, Bill Lee, Pat Leonard, Bob Matzenbacher, Larry Moore, Sam Pastrovich, Jack Scarborough, Dave Schaeke, Pat Scholz, Tim Twellman and Mike Brown. New members of the varsity selected for the trip were Steve Ashby, Don Broadway, Jerry Demel, Don Lange, Stan Osterbur and Denny Reinhardt.

It was alleged Boyer was using the department to further his unsuccessful campaign to be elected Tuesday to the Madison County Board. Slack is a friend of Boyer.

Boyer stopped operations of the department March 8 due to allegations it was being misused to further his campaign. He announced the department would resume operations after Tuesday's election.

Cougars see victorious 1976 baseball season

The always optimistic Coach Roy E. Lee flatly predicts that his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team could—and will—win the NCAA division II national championship this year.

Lee's optimism isn't something new with him. He almost always exudes that quality, and with ample reason. Every year that his Cougar baseballers have been eligible for post-season NCAA tournament competition—seven straight campaigns—his teams have qualified and performed brilliantly.

In 1972, Lee and his "Ladies" almost won it all, but had to settle for third place. Now, with eight starters back and with 10 seniors on a talent-packed 23-man roster, plus an awesome pitching staff it's easy to see why Lee is not only optimistic about his team's prospects but anxious to see the season begin.

As the Cougars started baseball workouts in February in preparation for their trip south to Galveston, Tex., over the spring break, Lee is in the enviable position of already knowing who his starting lineup will be.

In the infield, it'll be John Urban, senior from Livingston, at the hot corner; at shortstop, Edwardsville's junior Dave Schaeke; at second base, junior Tim Twellman from St. Louis; and at first base, senior Bill Lee, Troy. Handling catching chores will be hard-hitting Pat Scholz of Decatur.

In the outfield, it'll be long-baller slugger, Mike Brown, junior from Trenton; senior Bob Matenbacher of Marissa, who has the ability to break up, or win, a game with a single flick of his batting wrist; and Jim Dohr, of St. Louis, another senior.

Another reason for Coach Lee's willingness to predict a winning season is the availability of Granite City's Jack Scarborough, a left-handed batting and throwing speedster who led all SIUE hitters with a .323 average during the regular season and who paced SIUE's batters during the summer competition with an almost stratospheric .436 average.

Second best hitter last year for the Cougars was Scholz with a .321 mark. Third was Tim Twellman, .309, and next was shortstop Schaeke with a .301 mark.

What makes Scarborough so valuable as a utility player in that he is equally as good at first base as he is in the outfield; or, for that matter, for pinch-hitting chores or as a designated hitter.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., March 18, 1976 Page 8

He demonstrated his value last season when he filled in for the injured Bill Lee the last 12 games, starting with his game-winning pinch single in the 10th inning against Western Illinois U., at Macomb.

Lee's charges went on to sweep that three-game series with the Leathernecks and then put together an 11-game winning streak which turned SIUE's season around and earned the Cougars their tournament bid. When the streak started, they had been 15-11.

Over that stretch, Scarborough hit .406, including a three-for-four stint in the Cougars' final game in the regional tournament at Charleston.

The Cougars have pitching depth, too—although their "stopper," big Nick Baltz, graduated. Back is Larry Moore of Freeburg, who posted a 6-2 record with an earned run average of 1.86.

Lee's surprise starting of Moore against SIU at Carbondale in '75 proved successful, as the Cougars won the nine-inning opener over the Salukis, 8-5, and went on to sweep the twin bill. Two other voice-overs, Sam Pastrovich, Mt. Olive, and Greg Wolk of Crystal City, Mo., will give Lee experienced hurlers to call upon.

Lee is expecting great things from 6-5 right-handed fastballer, Jerry Deml, a transfer from Marietta State College, Minn. Other bright mound prospects are Steve Ashby, Stan Osterbur and Dennis Reinhardt.

Early on, Lee's designated hitter will be sophomore Don Langer of Maryville, who hit a robust .400 in a brief stint with the varsity last season.

Coach Lee has changed his early season format: This spring, he'll go to Texas instead of traveling to Florida.

At Galveston, SIUE will be one of six northern four-year colleges playing against each other on an equal basis. Heretofore, the Cougars have gone south and played southern schools, all of whom had played 20 or more games by the time SIUE, and other northern schools, arrived there. The five other teams are: University of Missouri-St. Louis; St. Louis University; Eastern Illinois U.; U. of North Dakota; and the U. of Nebraska at Omaha.

Available for a variety of duties is senior Pat Leonard, who came to SIUE as a slugger from Cahokia and will be tried out as a pitcher in order to utilize his strong right arm. Leonard also can play third base and the outfield.

22 games on North High baseball slate

Granite City High School North's baseball Steelers, with Coach Robert Stegemeier at the helm, face their third year of competition with a 22-game card and one tournament. The season will include nine home games and three doubleheaders.

Surprise defeats for some committeemen

The surprising overthrow of three Democratic precinct committeemen, Sam Wolf, Floyd David Moss and John Dickey, was among results of the committee races in the Quad-City area Tuesday.

Wolf, who also was defeated in his attempt to hold his state representative seat, will have to step down from his post as secretary of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, a post he has held for many years. The committee is comprised of precinct committeemen.

Wolf, the incumbent Democratic committeeman in Granite City Precinct 23, gathered 207 votes in that precinct, but challenger George Sykes collected 228 to win the post.

In Nameoki Township Precinct One, former Pontoon Beach village trustee Paul Bennett collected 128 votes while the incumbent Democratic precinct committeeman, Floyd David Moss, finished with 98.

Moss will have to forfeit his post as a member of the executive board of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee and chairman of the Nameoki Township Democratic precinct committeemen.

Moss also is village board president of Pontoon Beach. In Venice Township Precinct One, Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold emerged victorious in a three-way race for the Democratic committeeman post. Ebersold had 171 votes, the incumbent John Dickey had 139 and John Mangiaracino polled 82.

A well-organized write-in campaign elected Mrs. Margaret Nunn, widow of the late Walter Nunn, as Democratic precinct committeeman in Granite City Precinct 29. Mrs. Nunn's name was the only one on the ballot, but he received only 19 votes. He died in early January, too late to have his name withdrawn.

Mrs. Nunn collected 145 write-in votes and Mildred Adams received 23 write-ins.

In other Granite City races where there was opposition for Democratic precinct committeemen positions, results were: Granite City Precinct One—Frank Fuzessery 66, Bobby Orasco 42; Pet. 8—Gary Miller 121, Betty Smith 99; GC Pet. 11—John Pettillo 188, Jerry Walker 129; GC Pet. 14—Alice McGee 193, Bob Walkenbach 138; GC Pet. 16—William Harrison 239, David Partney 188, and GC Pet. 26—Elsie Mayhath 114, Carl Buehler 81. The Pet. 26 race was the only other one in which the incumbent was defeated.

In other Nameoki Township races where there was Democratic committeeman opposition on the ballot, results were: Pet. 4—James Counts 228 over incumbent Homer Bonthman with 202; Pet. 5—Helen Hawkins 144 over incumbent Dean Harrell with 62 and Leo Pelek with 64; Pet. 6—incumbent Jerry Adams 253, Louis Zeffert Jr. 176; Pet. 10—Robert Dew 47 over incumbent Vivian Kelly 40, and Pet. 11—Arthur Thies 168, Robert Kiskela 67.

Receives award

Dr. Leland H. Holt, 2105 Garfield Ave., was presented a presidential award from the Illinois Academy of Veterinary Medicine for 1975, in recognition of his leadership while serving the past year as president of the academy.

He was presented at the 94th annual meeting and convention of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association, held at Arlington Park Hilton, Arlington Park, Ill. Dr. Holt is a practicing veterinarian in the Quad-City area, and is recognized throughout the state for his contribution to the Academy of Veterinary Medicine, academy officials said.

Rise in metal construction seen in 1976

The metal building industry is expected to see sales jump by over 20 per cent in 1976, according to Ed Moore of Ed Moore Construction Co.

Such a turnaround in a key segment of the construction industry suggests that the recession, which hit the industry severely last year, may be over, Moore said.

Newly returned from a three-day dealer sales conference hosted by Republic Steel Buildings Corp., a subsidiary of Republic Steel Corp., Moore heard the cautiously optimistic appraisal of the industry as reported by Harvey Leaver, president of Republic Buildings.

"Shipments of Metal Buildings Manufacturers Association (MBMA) dropped during the past year like a thermometer in a cold spell," Leaver said. "First-quarter shipments down 25.8 per cent second quarter down 31.2 per cent and third and fourth quarter shipments down 30.3 per cent and 21 per cent, respectively, from 1974, which was our banner year with sales of $771,000,000."

For the year ahead, Leaver predicted metal building shipments will increase from 40 to 50 per cent when compared to 1975. Relating this back to 1974, the best sales year the industry ever had, 1976 volume is estimated to be about 88 per cent of 1974 in terms of total sales.

He said, "All industry barometers indicate a stabilized price market this year with no unforeseen price increases by the metal buildings systems producers." Turning to his own company, Leaver reported on Republic's efforts to achieve Underwriters' Laboratories ratings for its metal roofs. These ratings are due shortly and will meet or exceed Standing Building Code requirements, he said.

4 County Board incumbents garner Demo nominations

Quad-Cityans expressed confidence in their Madison County Board members by re-nominating all four incumbents who were seeking Democratic backing in primary balloting Tuesday.

Winners were Herbert "Junior" Milton in District 22, Jay D. Maurer in District 23, Arthur "Cooper" Moore in District 24 and Homer M. Boothman in District 25.

Milton garnered 551 votes to 440 for his opponent, Jim Perdue Sr. Maurer defeated Jake Hagop Varadian by a substantial margin.

Moore had 924 votes to 905 for his opponent, Gary R. Novich, and Boothman received 560 votes to win a three-way race; his opponents were Joe Boyer, who received 456 votes, and Chris W. Von Nida, 253.

A final vote tally may not be available for the Maurer-Varadian race in District 23 for a few days, as the judges sealed the county board votes in the election bag before recording the totals for Venice Precinct 5.

With eight of the district's nine precincts reporting, Maurer led 941 to Varadian's 339, a margin Varadian could not overcome, as only 209 Democratic votes were cast in that precinct.

District 22 precincts, with the Milton-Perdue votes in each, listed in that order, were: Granite City Pet. 4—132-42; GC Pet. 5—51-58; GC Pet. 6—71-52; GC Pet. 7—69-89; GC Pet. 8—105-87; GC Pet. 15—76-77, and GC Pet. 25—34-44.

Local retired people's bands to entertain at Senior Citizen Fair

A complete schedule for "The Way We Were in 1976," the Spring Senior Citizens' Fair to be held Wednesday, March 24, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been announced by Tim Tighe, coordinator of special programs for Student Activities at SIUE. The event is being sponsored by the SIUE Community Involvement Project. The fair is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the SIUE

University Center. It is free of charge and open to the public. In the fall of 1975, more than 1,200 senior citizens from this region attended the program. At 9 a.m. Wednesday the fair will open with a reception in provides entertainment.

A general assembly will be held at 10 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom with a welcome given by Tighe. The Rev. Virgil Santee, American Baptist minister at the SIUE Religious Center, will give the invocation. Following the prayer, SIUE President Andrew J. Kochman will welcome the senior citizens. Keynote speaker is Kenneth W. Holland, director of the Illinois Department on Aging, who will discuss "The Politics of Aging and Advocacy." Holland will inform senior citizens of programs that now exist for them throughout Illinois. He also will discuss the Department on Aging, the way its branch offices are designed to offer services and benefits for the elderly, and new programs that are being formulated.

A question-answer session with the audience will be conducted by Holland following his speech.

The entire general assembly from 10 to 11:30 a.m. will be broadcast by WSEB (88.7 FM), the SIUE radio station. "This will give individuals in nursing homes — or our elderly friends who have to stay home — the opportunity to take part in the fair," Tighe said.

"This is a first for our Senior Citizen Fair. It is just another way in which the university and CIP (Community Involvement Project) can help the community."

A free period is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., with continuous entertainment in Goshen Lounge provided by the Madison Senior Citizens' Kitchen Band, under the direction of Mildred Shifter, with John Q. Walker, an SIUE student, at the piano.

"This will be a nice, leisurely time when people can chat, sit and visit with friends," Tighe said. "Booths for arts, crafts and service agencies will be available to answer questions." "Service agencies planning to participate in the fair include the Social Security Administration, Department of Public Aid, American Cancer Society, American Association of Retired Persons, Edwardsville Senior Citizens' Service Center, Illinois Bicentennial Commission, Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, SIU Committee on Gerontology and Budget Food Service in Edwardsville."

An information booth from Senior Fair '76, a fair that will be held in St. Louis in May, will be set up. SIUE's University Health Service also will be available to provide free blood pressure checks and health information.

Entertaining and informative films will be shown in the University Center's River Rooms during the free period. Admission to all films is free.

A $2 luncheon will be served in the Indian Rooms in the University Center. Participants also are invited to eat in the University Club restaurant or the cafeteria.

All of the SIUE Campus Ambassadors — official hosts and hostesses for the university — and volunteer helpers will assist the guests. The volunteers will be dressed in Bicentennial costumes.

At 1 p.m., the program will resume in Meridian Ballroom with the Frank Cherry Orchestra. This candlelight dance is a particular favorite of fair-goers, according to Tighe. He said a special highlight of the day will be at 2 p.m., when dancers from the Virginia James Dance Studios in St. Louis perform. This performance will include audience participation.

"These exceptionally talented youngsters have been working for a month on a special performance for this fair," Tighe said. "The 30 dancers in the group represent the St. Louis area. Many of them have performed with the St. Louis Municipal Opera and in other shows in the region."

A grand finale is scheduled for 3 p.m. with the AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) Rhythm Band, directed by Vina Law of Granite City. It will be an hour-long review of kitchen band numbers, barbershop comedy and audience participation. All senior citizens attending the fair are invited to wear Bicentennial costumes. For more information on "The Way We Were in 1976," they may contact Tim Tighe at Student Activities, 692-2688.

Circuit Clerk Willard Portell defeated James Greene here, garnering 9,902 on 5,088-916-2,143-854 to Greene's 2,453 on 1,316-503-330-284.

State's Attorney Nicholas Byron led here with 5,416 on 2,525-998-1,413-840. Steve Maragides received 2,920 on 1,563-537-568-257. And William Johnson, on the ballot but saying he did not seek votes, was accorded 3,360 Quad-City ballot markings—1,805-742-413-490.

Small Quad-City Republican turnout

Quad-City Republican voters like both President Gerald Ford and governor candidate James R. Thompson, judging by the trend in sparse GOP primary voting here Tuesday.

Dwarfed by the 16,068 Democratic turnout in the four local townships, the 1,197 Republican ballots here apparently reflected the fact that most of the seriously-contested election battles were on the Democratic side.

Many independent-leaning Republicans and outright independents are believed to have chosen the Democratic ballot this year because they wanted to have a voice in that party's primary decisions.

Long ballots and resulting long lines of voters also may have discouraged some prospective voters from participating at all in the balloting.

The local GOP turnout of 1,197 consisted of 751 in Granite City, 225 in Nameoki Township, 68 in Venice Township (Madison-Venice) and 153 in Chouteau Township.

President Ford totaled 688 on a 438-114-472 tally, leading Ronald Reagan's 485-1297 G-101 Nameoki-19 Venice-78 Chouteau).

In the same race, Lar Daly garnered two votes—one each in Nameoki and Chouteau.

Thompson defeated Richard Cooper 804 to 215 with a 529-142-41-93 tally to 128-41-9-37.

For lieutenant governor, Dave O'Neal of nearby Belleville defeated Joan Anderson here 684-293 on township figures of 427-130-38-9 to 191-55-12-35.

Three statewide nominees were unopposed. Attorney General William Scott received 602-182-91-128 for a 963 Quad-City tally.

William C. Harris, secretary of state nominee, was accorded 593-173-90-18 support for a 904

For the Congressional nomination, Sam Drenovac received 515-153-44-115 in Granite City, Nameoki, Venice Township and Chouteau for an aggregate 827.

For the Illinois Senate GOP nomination, it was Glenn Wilson 409-122-33-81 for 645, outdistancing Gertraude Whittig's 132-35-9-23 for 199.

State Rep. Everett Steele attracted 1,210-366-67-217 cumulative voting for a Quad-City figure of 1,860. The other Republican nomination for the Illinois House went to Mrs. Eva Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas had 10,283 on 5,147-2,044-2,136-956; Coroner Dallas Burke garnered 9,944 on 5,028-1,970-2,061-885 and County Auditor John L. Kravak received 9,876 on 4,976-1,941-2,149-613.

MISSING GIRL. Debra Thomson, 18, of 2422 E. 25th St., has been reported missing from her home since March 6. Police have been asked to search for her.

McDonald, who received 312-102-36-75 for a 528 local total. Hugh R. Hairston, Madison County coroner nominee, received 351-126-33-82 for a grand total of 592 in the Quad-Cities.

Ice blamed for pile-up

Slippery pavement at McCambridge Avenue and Second Street on the edge of Madison is blamed for an eight-car accident as drivers were unable to keep their cars from sliding together. An unusual March cold snap and snow created hazardous driving conditions throughout the Quad-City area.

There was only one injury reported as a thermos bottle full of hot coffee broke, spilling the coffee on a leg of Miss Florence Holton, 18, of 28 Nassau Drive, causing second degree burns to her leg. She was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment.

3 injured in Rt. 270 crash

A Dayton, Ohio, couple was injured when their van went out of control on ice on Interstate 270 at Route 203 at 6:55 a.m. Tuesday and smashed into two guardrails.

Richard McDonald, 53, the driver, said the eastbound van first skidded into the left guardrail, then rebounded across the roadway and over the curb and into the right guardrail.

The couple was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where McDonald was treated for abrasions to his right knee. He was released after x-rays were taken.

His wife, Mrs. Betty McDonald, 51, suffered bruises to her left leg and right knee and a two-inch cut to her forehead. X-rays were taken and she was admitted.

The couple's daughter, Cary Lu McDonald, 15, suffered minor injuries which did not require hospital treatment.

25 teachers get dismissal notices

Letters of honorable dismissal were authorized sent to 25 Venice teachers by the Venice Board of Education at its meeting Monday night.

The total number includes all teachers employed at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center and faculty members in the Venice schools with less seniority than the most senior teacher at Venice-Lincoln.

Venice Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers explained the dismissal notices have been mailed at this time each spring for the past several years, pending notification of the renewal of federal funding.

Venice-Lincoln is operated solely with federal and state funds. Title VII programs in the Venice schools also must be refunded before current staff members are rehired.

Permission was granted by the board for a "Student Council Week" in April, when Venice seniors are planning different activities, including assuming the role of local city governmental officers for one day.

A tentative school calendar for 1976-77 was approved, setting the starting date as Aug. 23 and the last day of school on June 9, 1977. The calendar includes five emergency snow days which, if not used, could change the final school day to May 26.

The Alton firm of C. J. Schlosser and Co. was retained to audit district funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. Increasing financial problems loom in the future for the Venice School District should Union Electric's request for reduction in assessed valuation be approved, board members learned.

The company has applied for a 33.13 tax rate assessment, a reduction from a 50 per cent ratio in personal property and real estate assessments.

If approved, the loss in tax assessment to the Venice School District could approximate $8 million, or $280,000 in actual tax money.

This amount could wipe out the increase attained in the recent school tax rate election, Vickers said.

Due to the insecure financial situation, Donald Phillips, district treasurer, was authorized to investigate the investment of $50,000 on a short-term basis. The proposed investment includes $25,000 from the Fire and Safety fund, $5,000 from working cash, and $10,000 from the building and retirement funds.

Passenger hurt
The autos of Stanley Martin, 2321 Delmar Ave., and Robert D. Wilson, 2605 E. 25th St., were involved in an auto accident at 19th Street and Madison Avenue at 1:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Patricia King, 24, of 2709 Kirkpatrick Homes, a passenger in Wilson's auto, was injured and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital. She was treated for injuries to her head, neck and left shoulder and was released.

Values, goals affect consumers' choices

By DR. ROWENA LUTZ
Consumer Information Director
Southern Illinois University
at Edwardsville

Hardly a day goes by when we do not encounter some ways of utilizing consumer choices.

Clearly-defined values and specific objectives differ within every family and will change with the various life cycles of the family. Therefore, it is significant that the family, as well as individuals within the family, determine the priorities that will be implemented in any given time.

The cooperation of the family members contributes to the effectiveness of reaching goals. Our values and goals are affected by various factors: our family, the community, our experiences, our needs and wants, the resources available, the abilities and skills the person or family may possess, and the quality of life one maintains or wishes to maintain.

Values are defined as the ideals by which we live. Values give direction to life and should make a difference in living. But the valuing process is full of choices. In the marketplace, these choices are legion.

One must continually ask, "What is the most important thing, or item, or experience? Does this fill a need? A want? Or both?"

Is it intended for a long-term use or is it needed immediately?

Does it help in fulfilling long-range plans or not? Will I be pleased with the purchase?

Asking ourselves these questions might help in purchasing the items we need rather than feeling dissatisfaction by not controlling our spending.

State DAR honors GC residents

Two young women from Granite City were given exceptional honors at the 80th State Conference of the Illinois Organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which concluded this week at Forum 30 in Springfield.

Mrs. Ralph A. (Janet) Wilson was selected as winner of the Illinois Outstanding Junior Member award and Miss Anne Rowden was selected as the Good Citizen for Division 6.

Third grade pupils at Emerson School received a first-place award for their quilt top entry in statewide competition.

All three winners were sponsored by the Drusilla Andrews DAR Chapter of Granite City.

Mrs. Wilson was honored at the State Banquet and presented with the official Outstanding Junior Member pin and a DAR Bicentennial pin. She is now entered in national competition, with the winner to be announced at the Continental Congress in Washington, D.C. April 19-23.

Miss Rowden's honor was announced at a luncheon honoring Good Citizen candidates. She received a savings bond.

Mrs. Wilson was chosen from a group of eight candidates. The final selection was made by Mrs. Sally Young Leaman, honorary state regent of the DAR, Charles H. Percy, U.S. Senator, and Gladys E. Dyer, Illinois State Representative to the General Assembly from the 1st District.

Miss Rowden, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rowden, both local area teachers, initially was selected as the Good Citizen of Granite City High School North, along with other Good Citizens named at local schools. She became one of the 125 semi-finalists from more than 500 entrants in the state judging.

For the contest, the DAR divided Illinois into seven divisions with one person chosen in each division to vie for the top state award. The Division 5 candidate from Springfield received the first place honor.

The Illinois Outstanding Junior Member is selected on the basis of 60 per cent for DAR participation and 40 per cent on community activities. On the local DAR level Mrs. Wilson has served her chapter as the chairman of the Good Citizens Committee and the Junior American Citizens Committee. She has held the office of registrar and is currently vice regent.

Mrs. Wilson has served Division 6 as chairman of Magazine Advertising and Junior Membership; and on the state level as vice chairman of the Motion Picture and Television Committee and the American Heritage Committee. For the past two years she has served as a page (messenger) at the Illinois State Conference and will be paying at the Continental Congress in Washington in April.

Among Mrs. Wilson's community activities are the current presidency of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church Women, teaching a Sunday School class of 7th and 8th graders, and serving as a member of the church's Administrative Board and the Official Board. She is a past president of the Prohart PTA and is presently serving as legislative chairman of the Granite City PTA Area Council.

She assisted for seven years with the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois and was a member of the Panel of American Women for three years. Mrs. Wilson, a graduate of Illinois State Normal University, with a degree in special education, has also worked full time and part-time in the local school district for 14 years. She and her husband, Ralph A., are the parents of Eric, 11 years, Elizabeth, 9 years, and David, 3 years. Currently she is working as a real estate agent with the Marcus Realty Company.

Division 6 covers an area from the Mississippi River eastward to the Wabash River, from Granite City to Lawrenceville, encompassing 19 DAR Chapters in 17 counties with 974 members. The Division 6 winner was selected on the basis of 30 per cent for personal, school and community involvement and 70 per cent on a written test and essay on American History.

Miss Rowden is an Illinois State Scholar and currently ranks second in her class of 360. She has been invited to Who's Who Among American High School students for the past two years. She was a cheerleader for three sports and has attended cheerleader camp at Illinois State University. She has been active in advanced speech, the Peppermint Players and the Junior Folies.

At North High, Miss Rowden was a member of the Fall Festival Homecoming Court and was Wrestling Queen during her sophomore year. She holds membership in the National Honor Society, Ne-pace and Gavel, student council, the German club, glee club, the inter-school council, silver spirit and contendo.

Emerson School, third-graders, taught by Mrs. Stella Davenport and Mrs. Ruth Wojcik, have received a letter of congratulations from the Junior American Citizens Committee of the DAR stating that their entry of an embrodered quilt received a first-place award in the Bicentennial 75 Division.

The quilt has been sent on to Washington for judging in the national competition, with results to be announced also at the Continental Congress in April. Photographs of the prize-winning quilt, which consists of blocks for all 50 states prepared by the individual students in the third grade and assembled by their teachers, have been published in the Press-Record. Granite Cityans attending the conference during the weekend were members Mrs. Ruth McCarty, chapter regent; Mrs. Ruth Mitchell and Mrs. Barbara Williams.

Local "Good Citizens" attending were Miss Peggy Pier from Venice High School, Mark Jiles from Madison High School, and Miss Patricia Hitt from Granite City High School South. Parents attending were Mrs. Helen Jiles, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hitt and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rowden.

The 80th State Conference was under the direction of Mrs. J. Kennedy Kincaid Jr., Illinois state regent, with the main honored guest being Mrs. Wakelee Rawson Smith, President General, NSDAR, and also an Illinoisan. State regents from Connecticut, Iowa, Michigan and Missouri were also in attendance at the three-day event.

Mrs. Smith gave the main address at the banquet and Tony Ahlstrom, executive director of the Plymouth Foundation, spoke to the audience of Good Citizens, their parents, DAR members and guests at the noon luncheon. More than 750 attended.

Mrs. Millie Meek led the service and a silent prayer was offered for Mrs. Geppert and others who are ill. A 1 o'clock dessert course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Meek and Mrs. Nettie Conary, to 13 members.

Graceland Baptist dinner, songfest

A monthly fellowship supper will be served at 5 p.m. Saturday in the annex at Graceland Baptist Church, according to the Rev. Jack Smith, pastor.

Following the meal, there will be special singing at 7:30 in the church, featuring the "Joy Singers" from Cypress and Karmack, Ill., and a youth group, "He Is Supreme," from the Jesus Center, 2300 Madison Ave., the Rev. Smith added.

Teacher dismissals ordered

The Granite City Board of Education agreed Tuesday night to "honorably terminate" the services of a number of teachers for the 1976-77 school year because of a continuing decrease in enrollment.

Board members noted the necessity of sending honorable dismissals to the teachers in accordance with the state law which requires the board of education to dismiss first and second-year teachers 60 days prior to the close of the school year, or be obligated to employ them the following year.

Inasmuch as the community has witnessed a decline in student population over the past few years and a further decline is predicted for the forthcoming school year, there is no accurate method of determining the exact number of teachers needed, board members only 15 teaching positions for the 1976-77 school due to the enrollment decline. School officials said about 45 of the teachers probably will be rehired.

Nine certificated personnel were recommended for placement into contractual continued service.

Resignations were accepted by the board with regrets from Jean L. Maxwell, South home economist teacher; Doris Greve, Nameoki; Susan Gore, presently on leave of absence; Nita Norris, Mitchell cafeteria;

Avery Towse, Grigaby custodian; Sally Brueggemann, Joyce E. Hicks and Dorothy Votoupal, also on leave of absence, and to Harry A. Lane, golf coach at South High School, an extra-curricular assignment.

Requests for leaves of absence were granted by the board to Mary Ann Bright, South vocal music, and Pamela Peters, Webster. Extension of leaves of absence was approved for Jane Arlene Wyatt and denied to Catherine D. Hillen. In relation to other personnel positions, the board agreed to hire Dorothy Larner as a temporary secretary at South High School and Ricky Singleton as campus monitor at South High School.

They also extended the probation period for Marilyn Bilyeu, Anne Harizal, both resource teachers and Richard Logan, an elementary physical education teacher.

Chamber music series expanded

A special season opening performance by the Juilliard String Quartet and a special late-season performance by the Cleveland Orchestra String Quartet highlight an expanded Chamber Music Series for this summer's Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The Juilliard Quartet, perhaps the nation's most famous chamber music group, will be making just two summer appearances. One opens the River Festival season, and the other opens the season at Chicago's Ravinia festival.

The Juilliard Quartet has been hailed by critics as representing "the American school of chamber music at its best" and "one of the best quartets presently performing." The Cleveland Orchestra String Quartet, composed of the four principal string players with the Cleveland Symphony, will perform Aug. 2 under the direction of concertmaster Daniel Majeske. The other four chamber music concerts were programmed by Henry Loew, principal bass and personnel manager of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. The 1976 Chamber Music series offers what William Tarwater, chairman of the department of music at SIUE calls "a wide range of music, highlighted, of course, by the appearances by the Juilliard Quartet and the Cleveland Orchestra Quartet."

The 1976 season offers works ranging from Bach to Cesar Franck. Other composers whose works will be performed include Martinu, Brahms, Mozart, Monteverdi, Vivaldi, Chopin, Vincent Persichetti, Rudert Schumann, and Gershwin. The Gershwin "Rhapsody in Blue" is the original composition, for piano only, and will be performed by Barbara Liberman. The total of at least six evenings of music for the 1976 season is a continued expansion of the chamber music portion of the River Festival. Last season saw the chamber music, in response to audience demand, increased to four performances from two the year before. This season, the increased demand has not only necessitated two additional performances, but also caused the performances to be moved from the Religious Center on campus to the more spacious Meridian Ballroom in the University Center.

Tarwater explained that "crowd size was our main consideration. We simply needed the space."

"All of the 1976 performances were packed, and the Meridian gives us much more capacity." The acoustics, which experts had found surprisingly good in the gothic dome of the Religious Center, are "surprisingly excellent in Meridian," said Tarwater. "They are equally excellent, if not more so, than acoustics in the Religious Center. We tested various setups for the seating, trying various locations and found we now have about 350 superb seats."

Seating in the Religious Center had been "only about 200 total," said Tarwater. "So we're gaining quite a bit in capacity this way."

"There are some seats in Meridian that aren't as good as the Religious Center. But most are as good or better."

A concert held in February tested the Meridian's acoustics, and audience reaction was favorable, according to Tarwater, who noted that the mid-winter event was "very well received."

of right-of-way still needed for construction of the city's section of the Maryville Road improvement that will link Pontoon, Road and Highway 162 by a four-lane highway.

Schuler said the measure is "a powerful one that gives the city the authority to acquire needed right-of-way in instances where negotiations for such easements fail to result in an agreement between the owner and the city."

George Pilcoff, city attorney, said the ordinance is similar in all respects to the state law used in some instances by the Illinois Department of Transportation to acquire easements, when agreements for outright purchase cannot be reached.

The ordinance provides a "quick-take" procedure for right-of-way acquisition in which all requirements for obtaining the easements can be met in a matter of several months, according to Casper Nighoghossian, city condemnation attorney.

He said that under the eminent domain ordinance, the city may take over a parcel of land needed for road or highway improvements by filing a petition with the circuit court.

The court then makes an appraisal of the value of the acquisition and the city deposits the appraisal amount with the court. Proceedings to determine a final cost figure are then conducted by the court.

The owner has no option but to sell the right-of-way acquired by the city, according to Mayor Schuler.

Pilcoff emphasized that the ordinance applies to right-of-way needed only for road and highway projects and does not apply to other types of improvement work.

Schuler said the measure will be used in any instance where there is no agreement on right-of-way purchases for road or highway projects, but that its first major application will be to acquire a tract of about two-thirds of an acre at Highway 162 and East 23rd Street owned by Udell Bischoff.

That tract, Schuler said, is the only piece of right-of-way needed by the city to complete its easement for construction of the city's share of the Maryville Road project.

Planning for the new highway at a cost of more than $3 million has been completed by county highway engineers and a call for bids on the project has been awaiting the city's acquisition of all its right-of-way. The county has completed its right-of-way acquisitions.

Schuler said the city has been unable to reach an agreement with Bischoff for purchase of the Route 162 parcel.

immediately, with George Latch opening the first saloon. The foundry was first completed the next year and was immediately put into operation. Other facilities started in 1891 were the Standard Oil Barrel Works, the Merchants Bridge roundhouse and a large grain elevator.

Only eight families initially lived here, but about 2,500 men soon were employed at the various industries.

Most of the 2,500 were taken back and forth over the bridge each day on a work train.

Some did not prefer so much riding, and prevailed upon the car company to erect two long rows of houses to be used as residences for their families.

Along with the scattering of business places, there was a brick three-story hotel, the Iron Age, operated by Pleasant Ward.

The influx of workers created a severe housing shortage and a town was laid out.

Incorporation as a village took place in November 1891.

Dr. Charles S. Yourose was recorded as the first village president, with Robert McGlow as village clerk and Charles C. Skoen, Patrick Coyle, Warren S. Champion, Owen Bagby, Gabriel Peppers and John R. Beale as first trustees. Peppers had operated a farm here for many years.

Patrick McCambridge, a deputy sheriff, became chief of police. S. B. Rhodes was the pioneer real estate promoter.

Electric arc street lights were installed and a Presbyterian Church was built.

In 1892 there was an unexpected flood and the whole village found itself under water.

Damage was repaired in a few days, and all of the bustling activity was resumed within a short time.

Skoen, listed in some versions as the original village president, took office in 1893, the year that saw the beginning of the Madison public school system.

Postmaster Warren Champion headed the village in 1894 and 1895.

He was preceded as postmaster by George Coudy, co-founder of a lumber company, whose "office" was his coat pocket.

By 1894, the village could boast of a hand-drawn fire truck which cost $250.

Coyle and Champion became contenders for the village presidency in 1896.

Coyle was chosen and began a tenure that was to continue until 1905.

With the housing shortage continuing, the official population in 1900 was 1,979. There were many more than that working in Madison, but large numbers continued to commute from Missouri.

The census figure soared to 5,046 by 1916, making the first decade of this century the greatest growth period of all for Madison.

When the river levees broke in 1903, Madison was flooded for about ten days and the effects of the flood were felt for many months.

Water stood five and six feet deep at many points, and the wooden sidewalks floated away. In the same year as the flood, the Tri-City State Bank was organized. Three years later, the First National Bank was established, with Frank Troeckler as president and Champion as cashier.

State Street was the first to be paved. In 1905, it was bricked from the southern village limits to Seventh Street.

Third Street was next, the paving also being brick and extending from State to Alton Avenue.

Ferdinand A. Garesche became president in 1905, starting a 32-year occupancy of the office.

A lawyer and a former St. Louisan of French descent, he also served as state representative and chairman of the Democratic party.

He was nominated as lieutenant governor of Illinois in 1924.

Madison's village hall on Third Street was erected in 1907 out of accumulated surplus funds.

The first major fire occurred in 1890, when the Washburn department store burned. It occupied a half block on the west side of Madison Avenue between the Hilde building and Third Street.

No lives were lost but virtually the entire village was threatened by the blaze. A Baptist church was built in 1908.

Madison Avenue for the entire length of the village and Seventh Street from State Street to Madison Avenue were given a hard surface with wooden creosote blocks in 1909.

A outbreak in operation of local plants, beginning in 1908, caused much unemployment.

The number of taverns operated in Madison dropped from 68 to 35, reflecting the economic pinch.

By 1912, the figure was back up to 67, estimated to be one tavern for every 75 residents.

The volunteer fire department was reorganized in 1910 and a fire wagon with two typical chugging horses was substituted for the hand truck.

Crime prevention, detection defended

An exchange of words over the efficiency of the Granite City Police Department marked the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night after Seventh Ward Alderman Emerald Daves remarked that Granite City "are becoming prisoners in their homes" and that from a crime standpoint the city is "becoming like East St. Louis."

Daves' remark brought heated contradictions from several other aldermen and a suggestion by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward that "you (Daves) had better go out and see what our police are doing before you start bad-mouthing them."

Ronald Veizer, chief of police, also answered Daves' criticism in remarks that were applauded by the audience and most council members.

The discussion developed when Daves referred to the March 4 slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Anna) Kube in their home at 2676 Iowa St. and said, "It is awful when people are not safe in their homes. People are afraid to stay in their homes and they are afraid to walk in the streets. What can we do? This is something that is not only in one ward—it is all over the city."

"I don't blame the city, but there's something wrong when people are prisoners in their own homes. I have had several elderly people call me, and they are scared," Daves continued. "I know this may reflect on the police, but I know of policemen who now receive high salaries taking extra jobs at $2.50 per hour at funeral homes and other places."

The alderman said that most responses to crime place the blame on the courts. "But," he noted, "it's time for us to do something now. The police should chase all known criminals out of town—make it so hectic for them they won't stay."

In response to Daves' remarks, Parmley told the council that "In 1974 the city was honored for having one of the lowest crime rates in the state. Now one thing happens and you want to compare us to East St. Louis. The police here are doing an excellent job, and these are different today."

you can put the blame for crime problems on the courts where it belongs."

"Our police spend days and months working up a case, the criminal gets a small sentence or probation and is out on the streets again in no time. These men (police) work long hours every day and you should get out and see what our police are doing before you start bad-mouthing them."

Alderman Everett Morlan of the First Ward said, "You can't lay it on the police. It would be a big help if they would bring back the death penalty—put a rope on them."

William Dallas, alderman of the First Ward placed the blame in part on "those parents who have failed in their responsibility." He said some parents today give their children money "to shove them out of the way," a factor that adds to the budding criminal element.

"When I was a youngster and didn't say 'sir' I got knocked along side of the head. Things are different today."

LOOT RECOVERED
A 25-gauge shotgun and an electric guitar, at first believed taken, were found on the back porch at the home of Charles Nash, 2038 Iowa St., following a burglary there in which a kitchen window was forced open to gain entry, it was reported at 10:50 p.m. Monday. Nash was unable to determine at the time if anything else was missing.

Mayor Schuler asked Chief Veizer if he had any comment on the issue.

"I would like to point out," Veizer said, "that some of you aldermen apparently don't read the monthly crime reports that I pass out to you."

"Last year the number of criminal cases went up 20 per cent and the number of convictions increased 40 per cent. I am proud of our police department."

"Right now we have only one unsolved homicide case (Mr. and Mrs. Kube) on our records and I think we are going to solve that one before its over."

Madison

"It was the feeling by the EEO inspection team in December 1975 that Madison Community Unit District No. 12 was progressing and doing all that was possible to meet the desegregation guidelines of the state."

"We again are resubmitting our plan sent in September 1975 with related reports so we will know what direction to take. We hope they will respond directly, point by point, so we may know what we are doing right," Palchiff said.

The Madison School District is composed of two distinct political divisions, the city of Madison, which according to school officials, is 85 per cent white and 15 per cent black, and the northern part of the city of Venice which is 100 per cent black.

Five of the six Madison educational facilities are located in the city of Madison. The Madison school district provides educational facilities for more children who live in the city of Venice than attend the Venice schools, according to Palchiff.

Dr. Cronin notified Palchiff that effective April 2 the district will be placed on probationary recognition.

After this happens the local district has 12 months to satisfy the demands of the Illinois Office of Education.

After the probationary period is over and the Illinois Office is still not satisfied, a loss of federal and state funds could occur.

The text of Dr. Cronin's letter:

"The State Board of Education on Feb. 26, found the Madison School District No. 12 in a state of non-compliance with the Rules Establishing Requirements and Procedures for the Elimination and Prevention of Racial Segregation in Schools for the following reasons:

1. On May 18, 1972, the district was notified that one or more of its schools were segregated in minority student enrollment under the Rules Establishing Requirements and Procedures for the Elimination and Prevention of Racial Segregation in Schools and was directed to submit a desegregation plan.

2. The District requested and was granted additional time to develop a desegregation plan.

3. Technical assistance was made available by the Equal Educational Opportunity staff.

4. The district submitted a plan in 1973 which was found unacceptable and no acceptable plan was ever submitted nor did the District take steps which did, in fact, substantially desegregate the schools under its control.

As a result of that finding, the above school district will be placed on probationary recognition status effective April 2, at which time you will receive notification of the change in status.

If, prior to April 2, 1976, the district submits an acceptable desegregation plan, probationary recognition status will not take effect. Of course, if at any time, such a plan is forthcoming from the above district subsequent to April 2 it will regain full recognition status during the implementation of the plan.

We are hopeful that you will take steps to avoid probationary recognition status for your district. As always, the equal educational opportunity staff stands ready to render any technical assistance you may need in this area."

Bob Rowe to speak here

St. Louis Football Cardinal Bob Rowe will be the featured speaker at a special service, starting at 7 p.m. Sunday, at Namecki United Methodist Church.

Rowe, a six-foot, four-inch tall defensive tackle, weighs 270 pounds. He is considered a strong, durable lineman and helped the Big Red defense set a St. Louis record for the fewest points allowed in the 1974 season.

He has been a member of the Cardinals for nine seasons, missing only one start in the past seven years.

In 1973, Rowe was named co-captain of the defensive team. In the 1972 campaign, he enjoyed an outstanding record and was named the AP defensive player of the week after blocking three field goals in the 193 season opening win at Baltimore. A native of Elm Mich., he and his wife, Vickie, have two children and now live in St. Louis County.

Rowe is a member of the Branch Rickey Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) and also serves as an active and enthusiastic supporter of the entire FCA program.

Also participating in the service at the church will be the Rev. Dennis Price, associate pastor of the Main Street United Methodist Church of Alton. He will be in charge of both congregational and special music.

The service is sponsored by the Junior High and Senior High youth of the Namecki United Methodist Church and is open to the public. All ages are invited.

Following the service a reception in Rowe's honor will take place in the church Fellowship Hall. A free will offering will be received during the service. There is no admission charge.

The church is located at Pontoon Road and Primrose Avenue.

Also named to office were Mike Skubish, vice president; and Mrs. Leona Parente, secretary-treasurer.

The club, which has a current maximum enrollment, meets on alternating Saturday nights.

PINOCHLE CLUB MEETS AT BROYLES RESIDENCE
The A to Z Pinochle Club met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Lucille Broyles of Madison for a dessert course and an evening of cards.

Prizes were won by the hostess, Pruni Kula and Carol Broyles, both guests, Ruth Kinder and Emily Mejski. Also present were Mesdames Maryetta Wanbaugh, also a guest, and Helen Krakowiec, Evelyn Ferro and Sue Busch.

CHORAL MUSIC TALKS

Leonard Van Camp, professor of music and director of choral activities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, returned this week from two national conventions at which he presented papers on the subject, "Rediscovering Our Own Choral Music." He gave lecture-demonstrations at the American Choral Directors Association in Williamsburg, Va., and the annual meeting of the Music Educators National Conference in Atlantic City, N.J. His presentation traced American choral music from William Billings, "the nation's first important composer," to Horatio Parker, "a significant 19th Century composer."

Teach pupils to think, educator says

Emerson School PTA members and faculty delved into the subject of "Persons of Tomorrow" with Dr. Charles Combs, professor of Counselor Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, at the PTA's general meeting last week at the school.

During the program, the children presented a film, "Illinois Sings," produced by the Illinois Bell, which outlines in song significant events over 150 years of Illinois' history. Dr. Combs reminded the audience of the rapid changes in technology and daily living in the current world of today.

"Our children are growing up in a different world than we did, and we grew up differently from our parents," he said. He noted that things predicted at the 1933 World's Fair to occur by 1986 already have been surpassed today.

"For example," the educator said, "in 1933 it was predicted that one would be able to telephone across the United States and reach his party within 30 minutes by 1986."

Dr. Combs stated because of this rapid advancement that children must be educated to think, rather than mere rote learning. He pointed out that a man trained for a specific job today will have to be retrained in less than 10 years.

"The person of tomorrow must have authority and values within himself. He must have confidence in himself and not be dependent upon others," the speaker stressed.

PTA members expressed appreciation to the school district for allowing the "newspaper in the classroom" approach to learning at Emerson. Several parents commented that they believe children will be better able to cope with the future by knowing their world today and being challenged to think, as in the "newspaper" educational approach.

Dr. Combs also said he felt this was a commendable process.

The "Values Clarification" exercises introduced by Granite City High School counselors also indicate that youth are being helped to gain an inner value system, it was noted. This is so important to the person of tomorrow in such a rapidly changing world value system.

After the program, an election was held and Mrs. Vinita Windland was named president for the 1976-77 school year. Other officers include Pat Mitchell, vice-president; Lillie Paul, secretary; and Carol Funkhouser, treasurer.

Mrs. Mitchell, carnival chairman, reported the event was successful and proceeds will go toward field trips and a gift to the school.

Refreshments were served by the 4th, 5th and 6th grade room mothers. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., May 11.

Bicentennial tribute

A colorful Bicentennial tribute to President George Washington has been presented at St. John United Church of Christ.

The opening scene depicted the boy Washington with his school friends chopping down the cherry tree. Steven Sues served as commentator.

The second scene featured Betsy Ross and her friends making the first American flag.

Highlighting the service was an impersonation of President Washington by Russell Chappell in an authentic green costume. A Washington historical display was loaned to the congregation by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sternberg Sr.

Oldest pieces in this Washington display were an English oak cricket gateleg table, 1740, and a Queen Anne candlestick, from 1710.

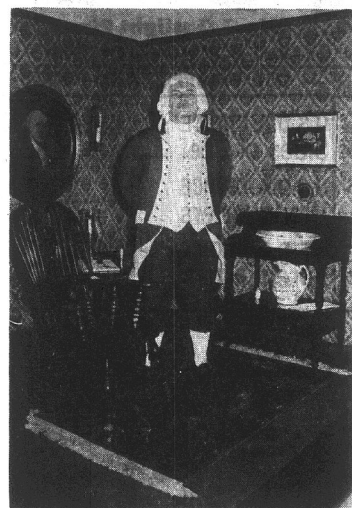

The chair is an antique English chestnut broadarm Windsor chair, often called the tavern chair.

A print of George Washington was framed in the 19th Century. A wall candleholder, as well as a helmet inkstand, trivet, holly leaf paper clip and hurricane chimney are Williamsburg reproductions. Scenes are stylized versions of candle sconces of the Washington time.

A pitcher and bowl are English ironstone from the first quarter of the 19th Century.

The display also includes two early American swords, prints of the "Spirit of '76," a picture of the Washington family, a mahogany washstand and a pedestal shaving mirror.

The Chancel Choir presented the inspirational anthem, "This is My Country," by Fred Waring. The message, "Genius and Judgment," was by the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner.

GEORGE WASHINGTON is portrayed by Russell Chappell in an authentic costume. The setting was displayed as part of a tribute to the initial U. S. President by St. John's United Church of Christ.

LONGEST SPEECH

At the end of the filibuster over the 1975 Civil Rights Bill on Aug. 28, 1957, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) established a record for the longest speech by one senator—24 hours and 18 minutes. The bill, however, was passed on this date.

'Remove signs, Portell asks

Lionel Portell, Granite City superintendent of streets, is requesting all of the candidates in Tuesday's primary election to have their signs and posters removed immediately from trees, utility poles and other property.

Portell warned it is illegal to place campaign signs on public property and noted that many candidates just leave their signs up, expecting the street department to remove them. "It would be a big help to our department, as well as the proper and legal thing to do, to remove the signs immediately," he noted.

Follies programs are presented once each semester by North oral communication classes.

A three-week unit in drama is held to initiate the student to all aspects of theater, including script writing, acting, scenery construction, costuming, makeup, sound, lighting and theater management.

Directing the program will be members of the North speech department faculty. F. Gordon Mueller, Wayne A. Hubbard and Dr. Goni Michaeloff, chairman of the speech department.

Under the direction of Ralph Mangan the audio-visual students will make a television tape of the performances which are then used in the classrooms for study and evaluation.

Madison County Federal observing grand opening

Ribbon cutting ceremonies were held Monday at the new home office of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association, 3600 Nameoki Road, directly across from the Nameoki Village Shopping Center in Granite City.

The association's home office was previously in the Bellmore Village Shopping Center, 3214 Nameoki Road.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler cut the official grand opening ribbon of dollar bills as civic officials and employees watched.

The dollar bills are being donated to the Salvation Army. The Rev. David Fielding of Hope Lutheran Church, Granite City, gave the invocation.

In conjunction with the grand opening celebration, Madison County Federal is offering free cork coasters to everyone who visits the new office through April 16. A range of gifts is available to depositors of $50 or more, free or at a saving, depending on the amount of deposit.

The new facility occupies half of a new two-story building which was designed and constructed by the S.M. Wilson Company. Marion Wilson was the architect.

The first floor houses eight teller stations, the new accounts department and a drive-up window. Located on the second floor are executive offices, the loan department and a board room-conference room.

A unique feature at the location is a dawn-to-dusk American flag and pole installation. The unit automatically raises the flag at dawn and lowers it at dusk. It is the first such flagpole in this area.

Madison County Federal, founded in Madison in 1923, became federally chartered in 1937.

Assets of the association currently total more than $25 million. It is the largest savings and loan in Granite City.

A second office in Glen Carbon was opened June 26, 1975, on Route 150 at Cottonwood Station Road.

A.H. Froemling has been president of the association since 1966. He joined Madison County Federal in 1959 as executive vice-president.

He is a former board member of the Illinois Savings and Loan League, has served on numerous committees of the U.S. League of Savings Associations and is a member of the Madison County-Jerseyville Managers' Association.

In addition, Froemling is active in a number of civic organizations. He is a past president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of Madison County Federal are Arthur F. Bunte, Robert B. Dunlap, Kenneth J. Hillmer, D.D.S., Ernest L. Hopkins, John L. Palcheff, William C. Rainford, John W. Reese, Gilbert Roeh and A. H. Froemling.

Madison County Federal offers a variety of savings plans. Passbook savings earn 5 1/2 per cent per year interest. Certificates range in term from one to four years and in rate from 6 1/2 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent. Accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. The association makes all types of real estate loans.

Appoint 2 on zoning board

Charles Taylor, 17 Fontainebleau Drive, and William Morrison, 11 Violet Court, both of Portion Beach, have been appointed by the Pontoon Beach Village Board to one-year terms on the village board of zoning appeals.

They will fill the vacancies created by one resignation and by one member who moved from the village.

The board was informed by the Illinois Commerce Commission that PSL Realty Co. has been granted a permit to operate the existing sewage treatment facility at the Gaslight Walk Apartments.

Schools to close for institute

Classes in all the elementary, junior and high schools in Granite City, Madison and Venice will be dismissed on Friday, March 26, for county institute day.

Parochial schools, St. Elizabeth in Granite City and St. Mary-St. Mark, Madison-Venice, also will be dismissed on the same date.

Students in Granite City elementary schools will have a free day on Wednesday, March 24, for parent-teacher conferences.

Farm pesticides controlled

By RON CORNWELL
Agricultural Extension Adviser

In 1972, Congress amended the 1947 Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act to extend federal regulations to all pesticides instead of only those being shipped across the state line. This means that pesticides will be classified as either restricted or non-restricted.

If a pesticide is classified as non-restricted, this means anyone can use the chemical. If the pesticide is placed on the restricted list, any person applying the pesticide must be certified. At the present time, the deadline date for certification of farmers using restricted pesticides is late 1977.

The state of Illinois is in charge of certifying farmers. The Cooperative Extension Service in Illinois is providing the educational programs to enable farmers to meet the certification requirements.

We will hold a pesticide certification program in Madison County on Wednesday, March 24. The program is two hours long. It will be presented from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. and repeated again from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Farmers interested in attending may take their choice of times.

The program will be held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville. Similar programs will be repeated in Madison County again next winter.

Wireworms are occasionally a problem in some Illinois cornfields. The problem is most likely to exist in corn following a grass sod. The problem can exist for two or three years after the sod is plowed under. Wireworms develop slowly and take four to six years to complete their life cycle.

Madison County farmers can make a check for wireworms before planting to determine if treatment is necessary.

University of Illinois Extension entomologist suggests placing bait in the soil at six locations in a field. Use a mixture of one cup of wheat and one cup of shelled corn at each bait station. Around April 1, place the bait in a hole about three to six inches deep.

Place two bait stations at the highest field elevation, two on the slope and two at the lowest area.

Cover the bait with soil and mark the locations. In 10 to 14 days, dig up the areas and examine for wireworm larvae.

Overwintering wireworms will be attracted to the bait stations. If there is an average of one wireworm per station, treatment with an insecticide is recommended.

Apply Furadan or Counter in the furrow or Thimet, Dasanit, Dyfonate or Mocap in a seven-inch band ahead of the press wheel. Read and follow the directions on the label.

Most fields will not have any worms or at most one or two worms at six bait traps. No treatment is recommended for these fields.

The herd of Mrs. Freda Linenbrocker was high for the month with 1.88 pounds butterfat per cow per day. The Linenbrocker herd of 33 cows averaged 47.8 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.94.

PAYROLL SAVINGS DRIVE. Charles F. Knight, right, chairman and chief executive officer of Emerson Electric Co., is congratulated by Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon on his appointment to the U.S. Industrial Payroll Savings Committee for the St. Louis area, including Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois, the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County. Knight met in Washington, D.C., with Treasury Department officials to plan the 1976 campaign. Comment and analysis

Impressive primary races Tuesday by Pres. Ford, Carter, Thompson, Howlett, Dixon, Lucco, McPike and Judge Calvo; Madison County bucks state trend to back Walker, Wallace

As with most elections, there are mixed emotions among Quad-Cityans after surveying the results of Tuesday's statewide primary election.

Most severe loss was the Democratic state representative post now held by Sam Wolf of Granite City. He will remain in the legislature for most of this year, but in November the three positions seem certain to go to Rep. Joe Lucco, Rep. Everett Steele and newcomer Jim McPike. Rep. Steele was one of two nominated on the Republican ballot.

State Senate nominees are Sen. Sam Vadalabene, Democrat, and Glenn Wilson, Republican. Since neither lives here, it appears that the populous Quad-City area will end up with none of the four 56th Legislative District offices—one senator and three representatives.

The Quad-Cityans divided up the local vote while lone Altonville residents ran strongly in their home cities. Interestingly, this community "killed off" its aspirants not only by their sheer numbers but also by giving substantial support to McPike in all four local townships.

Another spirited race saw Circuit Judge Horace L. Calvo turn back the challenge of a popular attorney, Norman Kinder. Sen. Vadalabene apparently suffered for his active support of Judge Calvo, while the gubernatorial nominee Michael Howlett; the senator was renominated without opposition but with a much lower vote total than expected.

Illinois went for Secretary of State Howlett over incumbent Governor Dan Walker, and the state also showed a preference for former Georgia Governor Jimmy Carter for the Presidential nomination.

Madison County disagreed, giving Walker a 21,000-15,000 edge over Howlett and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace a narrow countywide win over Carter.

President Gerald Ford, easy statewide Republican winner over former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, outpolled Reagan in Madison County but by a relatively narrow margin.

Just as the entire Howlett group won statewide in the Democratic primary, incumbents prevailed in Madison County Democratic races. Most impressive candidate on ballots this area, along with the always strong Congressman Melvin Price, was State Treasurer Alan Dixon, landslide Democratic nominee for the secretary of state post being vacated by Howlett.

Treasurer Dixon also won impressively two years ago. One wonders whether the Illinois Democratic Central Committee would have had an easier time defeating the controversial incumbent governor if it had acceded to Dixon's earlier desire to run for that office. In any case, Dixon will now have an opportunity to capture a post of vast responsibility that undoubtedly would serve as a stepping-stone to still higher accomplishments.

Republicans statewide had less dramatic contests but nevertheless nominated candidates of high caliber who should be able to give the Democratic nominees sharp resistance.

Principal GOP interest aside from Presidential campaigning centered on the nominations for governor, won by James R. Thompson, and lieutenant governor, achieved by Dave O'Neal. Like Dixon, O'Neal is a St. Clair County resident; no Madison Countyans ran for state office.

Thompson says he will stress the same philosophy that he used as a gang-busting federal attorney—"Don't be afraid to do what's right." Howlett, meanwhile, is calling for efforts to unite Democrats and then all Illinoisans.

While both governor nominees plan to fight to win, it seems possible to predict even at this early date that the November campaign will not be a duplicate of the ugly primary. Both contenders are likely to concede the issues, enabling voters to catch their breath and make an informed decision on which is "the best man."

entry—the entire process takes place under computer control.

Also, the mill is equipped with a strip accumulator at its entry and which will allow it to operate continuously at speed, even when its entry end is stopped briefly while new coil is welded to the tail of the coil in process.

Engineer chief backs dam with single lock

Lieutenant General W. C. Gribble Jr., chief of the Army Corps of Engineers, announced Tuesday that he proposes to recommend construction of a new dam with a single lock, 1200 feet long and 110 feet wide, to "replace the deteriorating Locks and Dam 26" on the Mississippi River near Alton.

The new dam and lock would be located two miles downstream of the existing structures and would include provision for additional storage lock at a later date, subject to subsequent Congressional authorization.

Estimated cost of the proposed dam and single lock is $300 million, based on January 1976 price levels.

The draft recommendations of the chief of Engineers are being sent to all concerned governors and federal agencies for their review and comment over the next 90 days.

The chief will then send his final recommendations to the Secret criminal records, arrests endanger citizens

Ellsworth (Maine) American—If Maine's ex-patriation statute had been in effect when John Peter Zenger was acquitted of libel in New York in 1734, the record of that great trial would have been extinguished.

There is a powerful movement in this country, in Maine, Minnesota, Hawaii and Oregon, and in Washington as well, to achieve by rules and regulations, by statute, concealment or expungement of criminal records.

This springs from a humane and civilized impulse to protect those who have been accused wrongly of the commission of crime and to rehabilitate those who have discharged by prison sentences their debt to society for crimes they have committed.

To gain this important social end, many groups seem willing to expose Americans to the hazards of secret arrest, secret trial and secret punishment, notwithstanding the eloquent testimony of the victims of totalitarian justice in Fascist and Communist countries.

Society ought to forgive those who have been convicted of crime; but it need not necessarily forget the matter entirely.

The passion to throw the cloak of secrecy over past offenses can endanger the rehabilitation of the convicted felon and imperil the lives of other citizens.

A recent terrifying case in point is the case of Thomas W. Whalen, 30, of 210 Rhode Island Avenue in Washington, D.C., who was found guilty of the murder of Rebecca A. Rieser in September 1972.

Whalen, in 1968, bludgeoned an 80-year-old woman to death and was committed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

While on convalescent leave from that institution, he was convicted in 1962 of a rape and robbery.

While on parole for that crime, he was employed by McLean Gardens apartments as a yardman, when parole officer withheld the facts of his background.

On Sept. 10, 1972, the body of Rebecca Rieser was found in her apartment, with bed clothing around her neck. Police at first thought the crime was suicide.

Whalen had been in the apartment complex that morning picking up furniture the apartment owners had given to some employees.

Whalen was convicted of the crime in D.C. Superior Court on Jan. 16, 1974.

Rebecca Rieser had come to Washington to use her skills as a marine biologist and a computer scientist in work for the Interior Department.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rieser of Pittsburgh came to Washington and personally selected the McLean Gardens apartment because of its security precautions, which included an arrangement under which all visitors to the building had to pass through a front lobby and obtain approval of a receptionist.

She was killed only a month after she arrived in Washington.

Whalen was hired by McLean Gardens in March 1972, on referral from the D.C. parole board.

The board's counseling service recommended him after receiving notices from his parents that he had been convicted of robbery charges.

That report did not mention that he had been convicted when he was 13 years old and that he was on parole from robbery and rape convictions committed while on convalescent leave from St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

A parole officer did visit McLean Gardens the day after he was hired and warned he was a suspect in three unsolved murders and should not work indoors at the complex.

Nevertheless, Whalen was promoted from yard to maintenance work, where he had keys to more than 700 apartments.

In September 1975, the parents of the murdered girl were awarded $201,633 in a suit against the government of the District of Columbia for the negligence of parole officers in recommending that Whalen be hired at the apartment complex.

The parents also won a settlement of $650,000 from McLean Gardens.

There are many situations in which previous criminal acts which are irrelevant and immaterial so far as employment is concerned.

There are other situations, like this one, where it is dangerous to the public and unfair to the former convict to conceal the past and place the convicted man where further crime is invited.

Statutes in Maine, and other states, regulations being considered by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, and proposals before Congress in S. 2008, S. 1247, and S. 1428, risk degrees of secrecy in order to protect persons convicted or accused of crimes.

They invite the kind of concealment practiced by the parole officers of the District of Columbia, who did not tell apartment owners how dangerous Whalen had been in the past.

This unfortunate man had a right to protection against himself, and society had a right to protection against him.

Statutes aimed at concealing, sealing, and expunging of criminal records threaten the safety of those accused and of those convicted of crime.

And they threaten the security and safety of the general public, as well.

The Washington parole officers did improperly what a great many statutes and regulations now under consideration will hereafter do legally—unless an aroused public puts a stop to these proceedings, in Maine and elsewhere.

Wants more qualified associate judge

To the Editor:

I have attended many sessions of court activity in Madison County. These were equally of my own volition, but the greatest reason for the mania that has diseased the average mind.

It has prompted me to attend court sessions where and whenever convenience allows, and therefore, repeat that there are some extremely capable men "on the bench."

But there are some "juvenile" pretenses, some people disguised as judges, and others who dull the intentions of the law association.

One such judge sits on the associate bench and pretends to open a court.

And all the time he relies on some attorney to steer him through a crisis, such as having to think for himself or render a verdict that may offend some knowledgeable person in his court. That could be anyone from the court stenographer to the bailiff.

It is not maintain dignity and quality by picking a member who can think and act like a lawyer.

There are some "good ole boys" out yonder who would do us all proud: close your eyes and grab one of these fellows.

It would have to be an improvement. Disparity breeds derision.

Restore campsite at park location

To the Editor:

Shame on every person living in the worst state of Illinois, including the writer, who has had knowledge of what Lewis and Clark did to make America the greatest nation in the world—and as yet has not contributed anything constructive.

Our actions reflect even a minimum of appreciation for the personal sacrifices of these courageous men and their members of the expedition party?

They were near death a number of times from the time they set forth from the Illinois shore of the Father of Waters (the Mississippi River) on May 10, 1804, until they returned nearly two and a half years later.

Eighty now we are in the midst of celebrating the Bicentennial year, and the first and longest campsite of the entire expedition is in shambles. It is a disgrace to a modern junk yard.

This Illinois site was chosen by men hand-picked by President Thomas Jefferson, who drew up the Declaration of Independence. Here they prepared all the final plans for the world's greatest land expedition ever carried out by modern man.

It is located at the confluence of two of the world's greatest rivers where millions would like to visit to see the marriage of these waters and at the same time observe a replica of the world-known Camp Dubois in Illinois.

It has been 51 years since Senator Robert G. Gibson of Alton proposed before the Illinois state legislature that $10,000 should be set aside for a memorial to these men, the explorers, Meriwether Lewis and William Clark.

Now we have only a simple stone marker that was erected in 1956 by the Illinois State Historical Society 20 years ago at a cost of $150, including freight from a quarry at Athens, Ill. The bronze plate cost $250.

How long? The answer should be now 1976 for every dedicated believer in the Declaration of Independence of 1776.

Lists advantages of property tax

To the Editor:

In this important year of 1976 when all the legal advantages of loopholes, etc. That is his privilege.

If all the time and money spent in keeping records, computing the income tax and enforcing it is considered, then the income tax becomes a very poorly productive tax as compared to other taxes.

Another important angle to consider regarding the IRS is its potential danger to a free democracy, in the hands of a powerful group or person. It could silence or crush all opposition.

Think about it. Under the income tax, the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. That is the way it works, whether we like it or not.

For the wealth distribution, percentage-wise, we are no better off than India. The difference is that, as a nation, we are wealthier on an individual basis, we have more than individuals in India.

Another angle to think about: A foreign corporation pays only the corporate tax, and no individual income tax to the U.S. government.

This is terrific competition to American concerns. It is unfair, leading to foreign ownership. For example, Ireland, due to the fact it was an absentee ownership country for centuries, stayed pauperized.

For the owners, mostly English, would not let the people better themselves and do away with the poor, if any, taxes particularly property taxes.

The same was true of Russia, Yugoslavia, Spain, Portugal and other countries that were held back.

If we increase income tax and do away with property tax, we will become a fully paid-up owner of absentee land and industry owners, thereby also becoming a pauperized country.

Property tax is the one sure tax on wealth. All other taxes are levied to the consumer in one way or the other—for instance, taxes on manufactured products, warehousing or whatever is added to the price the consumer pays for products or services.

The terrible cry about doing away with the property tax is generally heard from states that are losing industry and taxes that are property-tax-free for a number of years to any industry they might induce.

The answer to that problem, perhaps, is to create a federal property tax, assessed and collected by the federal government and reimbursed to the states in the amounts collected from them, minus federal costs.

This would do away with revenue sharing and, at the same time, do away with some of the income tax.

There are many more reasons for doing away with the income tax—more important and far-reaching. I have listed only some of the simpler reasons that one reads about periodically.

Therefore, in this important election year, before one adds to a bigger income tax and doing away with the property tax, one should read, research and discuss the problem with others.

MURRAY LOUIS. His dance companies will be among those featured in the 1976 Summer Dance Institute at Washington University and at the Mississippi River Festival.

Dance institute here in summer

The Mississippi River Festival and the Washington University Performing Arts Area have joined to co-sponsor the Summer Dance Institute of 1976.

The unusual program will bring together the Festival's unique performing facilities and the professional studio atmosphere of Washington University's Dance Division. This summer's Institute will consist of four weeks of intensive day-long programs in contemporary dance, with offerings in beginning and advanced technique, theory, improvisation and choreography. Selected guest artists will be available at the sessions.

The Institute will be conducted in air-conditioned dance studios in the recently completed Performing Arts Center at Washington University.

Performances of the visiting companies will be at the Mississippi River Festival site, on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

During the course of the Institute, full-time students will be offered free tickets to the fine arts events at the Festival and also discounted group tickets for MRF performances by popular and contemporary artists.

The professional artists will be in residency with Washington U. and the Festival, providing the students of the Institute with an opportunity to learn from and work with such companies as the Murray Louis Dance Company, and James Cunningham and the Acme Dance Company.

A selected schedule of master classes and lecture demonstrations will also be open to the public, as well as the performances at the Festival site. Murray Louis has been hailed by such critics as Clive Barnes of the New York Times as "a tremendous virtuoso dancer with a kind of muscular control that probably cannot be matched."

Louis has been the recipient of two Guggenheim Memorial fellowships in dance, and has won a number of other awards and honors. He has also worked on a five-part film series for television, and adapted several ballet works for television.

James Cunningham has done the choreography for many dramatic productions, including Twelfth Night and Don Giovanni at the Stratford, Ont., Shakespeare Festival.

His Acme Dance Company was formed in 1970 and marks the formalizing of a relationship between Cunningham and his performers that dates back in some cases to 1962.

The Summer Institute Program for 1976 was developed by an innovative joint Washington University-Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Mississippi River Festival committee.

With the performances this summer, there will be — in addition to the Institute — a full schedule of free workshops and classes for the public. These will not require prior training in dance.

Events are being planned to take place in a number of select sites throughout the metropolitan area to make it easy for the public to attend. A complete schedule will be released in May. For more information, the public may contact MRF Concert Manager Vicky Holt at 692-2300.

Madison County teachers' institute set for March 26

County Teachers' Institutes will be held on Thursday, March 25, for teachers of St. Clair County and on Friday, March 26, for teachers of Madison County, involving a total of 8,000 teachers.

The institutes will be held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day in four time periods of about 50 minutes each.

Public schools will be closed as well as a number of parochial and private schools whose teachers will be attending.

Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, regional superintendent of Madison County, and Martha O'Malley, regional superintendent of St. Clair County, worked cooperatively through a committee of teachers representing a variety of school districts in both counties in planning the identical institutes.

They were assisted by Dr. Ruth Richardson and Dr. Roy Steinbrook of the Education Department and Bonnie Little of the Conference Office of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Questionnaires were submitted to all of the teachers of the two counties in September and the results were followed to set up a program to meet the interest shown.

There are 55 group sessions for the teachers to attend. Many of these sessions will be led by presenters from area school districts. A school district chairman will be in each group session.

There will be educational materials exhibits by over 45 companies in the University Center lounge during the entire time of the institute.

Teachers of parochial and private schools are being especially invited to attend, and other persons are welcome. To obtain a program, citizens may contact their regional superintendent. All public schools will be closed during the day of County Teachers' Institute.

Section 24-3 of the Illinois School Code requires attendance of all public school teachers unless specifically excused to attend another meeting of equivalent educational value.

Three speakers will be featured, appearing in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Professor Howard Seeman, Ph.D., educational supervisor and full-time lecturer in effective education, human relations and educational psychology at Lehigh College, City University of New York in the Bronx, will speak on "The Alive Classroom."

He will discuss how to handle classroom emotion, morale and attitude — at 8:30 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. each day. Dr. Seeman has served as director and supervisor of the Child Guidance, Brooklyn; and "human relations teacher for adult education, New York City. Floyd L. Coppedge, Ed.D., academic dean of the University of Science and Arts of Oklahoma at Chickasha, Okla., will speak at 9:30 a.m. each day on "Strategies for Resolving — Classroom Problems" — stimulating students to do what they should.

He has experience as a mathematics teacher, administrative intern, assistant principal, junior high school principal and high school principal in the public schools of Oklahoma and Kansas. He has served as visiting professor at Northeastern State College of Oklahoma and assistant professor at Kansas State University and Indiana University.

He has served as workshop seminar coordinator and consultant and given presentations throughout the Midwest. Much of his work has been in individualization of instruction.

Donald V. Strong, Ph.D., superintendent of the Arlington Heights public schools in Illinois, will speak at 12:10 each day on "Individualization That Works." He stresses that children, teachers and people in general are not interchangeable parts; "real individualization has to take into account everybody's needs and abilities."

He spent a number of years in teaching and administrative capacities in the Springfield public schools and was, for several years, superintendent of Joliet schools.

He is chairman-elect of the North Cook Region of the Illinois Association of School Administrators. Immediate past president of the Mid-American Association of School Superintendents, he is an active member of both the National and Midwest Suburban School Superintendents' Organizations.

Arlington Heights has received attention for its innovative educational programs and its development of new management systems.

Dr. Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, will be in the Opepi Lounge of the University Center from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Friday, March 26, to personally greet teachers.

Chairmen of group sessions will include: Alethea Cross, Title VII director, Venice, "Are we meeting the student's educational needs?"

'Radical' malpractice reforms are proposed

A multi-faceted series of reforms to alleviate malpractice litigation problems facing Illinois physicians and hospitals has been proposed by the Task Force on Professional Liability.

"Although many of the needed reforms are considered radical by the legislature, the legal and judicial systems and the public, the malpractice problem is a critical one that cannot be resolved without radical solutions," the Task Force said in a position paper during the weekend.

Warning that there is no single cure for the malpractice dilemma, the Illinois State Medical Society-sponsored Task Force called for "far-reaching reform that will touch upon every aspect of the current problems and will involve physicians, hospitals attorneys, the courts, insurance carriers, arbitration agencies and the public." The Task Force paper focused on changes in five major areas:

1. JUDICIAL-LEGAL—"The courts must modify their handling of malpractice claims to eliminate long trial delays which increase legal costs for both plaintiff and defendant. Arbitration must be closely examined as a possible alternative."

"Guidelines must be provided to aid judges and juries in awarding appropriate damages and to ensure that persons with valid claims receive a large enough share of any awards."

"Rules must be established and enforced to discourage plaintiff attorneys from pursuing cases that have no merit, and physicians and hospitals must have the opportunity to initiate counterlitigation. In addition, specialization should be encouraged in the legal profession to develop more qualified defense attorneys."

2. INSURANCE—"The entire structure of the insurance system should be changed to prohibit carriers from settling suits that appear non-meritorious. The insurer's practice of offering higher coverage limits—thereby presenting a larger 'pot of gold' for the plaintiff to pursue—must be studied."

"Carriers must be more candid about their underwriting experiences, with information used to educate physicians and hospitals as to the danger areas."

"The information also should be used to restrict physicians performing procedures for which they are found to be unqualified."

3. LEGISLATION—"Legislation must be passed to modify the tort system. Proposals must plow new legal ground if they are to be effective and must be radical enough to raise constitutional questions."

4. MEDICAL PROFESSION—"The medical profession must clean its own house with stringent peer review and procedures designed to deny privileges, membership or even licensure if necessary. In addition, physicians must keep up with latest developments in medicine and must be more open with their patients, obtaining more reasoned consent."

5. PUBLIC EXPECTATION—"The public must be made to realize that medicine is an inexact science and that successful treatment cannot be guaranteed. The public must be educated concerning its responsibilities, such as asking more questions before undergoing any treatment or surgical procedure. The public's concept that all injured patients should be compensated—regardless of whether any evidence of negligence exists—also must be examined."

The Task Force cautioned against the belief by some that a physician-owned insurance carrier would solve the malpractice problem overnight. "No significant reduction in (malpractice insurance) premiums can be expected until comprehensive solutions to the underlying causes of the high premiums are developed, and the physician-owned carrier is nothing more than a lifeboat to provide coverage which otherwise is not available at reasonable cost," the Task Force said.

"Guaranteeing the availability of insurance does not address itself to the root causes of the problem." Created in August 1975, the Task Force has utilized the expertise of 30 organizations, including the Illinois Hospital Association, Illinois State Dental Society and other medical specialty societies to study the malpractice problem.

The Task Force has developed several pieces of legislation ready for introduction in the General Assembly and is carrying out other programs to help physicians and hospitals counter the increase in malpractice litigation.

National interest in unique center

The Environmental Resources Training Center (ERTC) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is the only state center of its kind in the United States, and national attention is being focused on the facility, according to Richard Briceland, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Director Briceland was guest speaker at a ground-breaking ceremony for the ERTC facility last week at the construction site on the SIUE campus.

"The center will provide the university a unique opportunity to reach out and offer both students and pollution control facility operators a type of training and experience that heretofore has not existed," Briceland told the audience, which included members of the University Board of Trustees, legislators and state and national EPA officials.

The state EPA director said the training center is important because "well-trained professionals will be needed to operate the many new pollution control facilities being built throughout the state."

He said that by the time the center is completed next year, the Illinois EPA will have approved grants for more than $2 billion worth of waste water treatment plant systems for communities in Illinois.

"These new facilities are only inanimate objects—bricks and mortar and glass and pipes and ventilating fans and electrical gear."

"They will do the pollution control job they are designed to do only if they are operated by well-trained professionals," the speaker said.

Dr. Briceland said he recently completed a survey of 119 municipal sewage treatment plants constructed since 1969 and compared their actual performance with what they were designed to do.

"What we found was that the effluent from over 50 per cent of these facilities was not meeting design specifications," he said.

"The message is clear," Briceland added. "Operator training is a critical ingredient in an effective pollution control program."

"This applies whether we are talking about sewage treatment plants, municipal water supplies, sanitary landfills, or air pollution control facilities."

Construction of the ERTC is being financed by a $2 million grant from the EPA.

SIUE President Andrew J. Kochman applauded "the fine progress that has been made on the development of the center," which is expected to be ready for operations next year.

He gave special credit to the School of Science and Technology, which "actively marshaled all the resources of the university community."

Ivan A. Elliott Jr., chairman of the Board of Trustees, said the project is "a perfect illustration of the university's dedication to its principal goals: teaching, research and community service."

Channel 18 non-profit corporation proposed

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville reported to the SIU Board of Trustees here last week on the development of a plan to participate in forming and operating a not-for-profit corporation to provide educational television services to Southwestern and West Central Illinois.

The plan is being submitted to the Federal Communications Commission for approval and ultimately will be returned to the Board of Trustees for final approval.

Legislation is pending in the Illinois House of Representatives which would appropriate $1.5 million to SIUE for transmitter facilities and broadcast capability for Channel 18, which has been reserved by the FCC for the SIUE area for several years.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE) has recommended funding for Channel 18, contingent upon SIUE involving a "not-for-profit council" to provide representation for colleges, school systems, related agencies and the disadvantaged.

The BHE also has recommended $350,000 funding under the Cooperative Education Act to initiate educational television development at SIUE, in Western Illinois and in Chicago. University officers said allocation of the funds to the three geographical areas has been predicated on a demonstration of progress toward organizing consortia corporations.

The plan newly announced proposes that SIUE officers—in conjunction with representatives of such colleges, community colleges, school systems, and related public and private agencies as are deemed appropriate by the SIUE president—establish a not-for-profit corporation to be called "Southwestern Illinois Public Television, Inc."

University officers said that once the corporation is organized, it will petition the FCC to have a broadcasting license for Channel 18 assigned to it.

The corporation would then function as the legal broadcaster, and its board would legally control station policies, programming and operations. SIUE, as owner of the station, would contract to operate the station, in conformity with FCC regulations and broadcast policies established by the consortium corporation, university officers said.

SIUE has had a full-color television studio in the Communications Building for several years.

In August 1968, the SIU board authorized SIUE to seek a construction permit from the FCC for transmitter facilities. The construction permit was never formally sought, and broadcast capability has not materialized because capital budget priorities at SIUE and the BHE after 1968 favored other projects.

Uptrend in auto sales spurs steel shipments

One-fourth of domestic steel industry shipments during January went to the automotive industry as the nation's mills shipped 7,245,000 tons of finished product, a 19.4 per cent increase over December 1975 tonnage of 6,071,000 and not far off the year-ago pace, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported this week.

Institute data also showed that the containers and packaging market claimed 12.4 per cent of total steel shipments, moving it into third place in receipt of shipments. Construction market steel held firm at 12 per cent.

Domestic steel producers in January shipped 1,812,000 tons of finished steel for automotive use.

This compares to auto shipments in the previous month of 1,170,000 tons. It represents a gain of 475,700 tons, or 36 per cent, over January 1975 shipments to the auto industry.

January shipments to steel service centers and distributors totaled 1,025,000 tons, or 14 per cent of total industry shipments.

Steel service centers, with shipments of 1,246,000 tons, were domestic steel's largest single customer bloc in December 1975. That segment moved back into its customary number two position in January, a decline of 22 per cent from the January 1975 total of nearly 90,000 tons. Alloy and tool steel shipments also were under the same month a year ago.

Export shipments, which approximated 150,000 tons in January, declined substantially from a year ago and were behind the previous month's pace.

The domestic steel industry in January produced more steel, employed more people and paid them higher wages than it did the previous month.

Those directly engaged in production of steel worked slightly more hours per week on average than the previous month, 35.5 hours compared to 33.6 hours.

All steel industry employees receiving wages and salaries did better. Total employment costs per hour for hourly employees were: $11.59 in January 1976, compared with $11.20 in December 1975, a $9.08 average for 1974 and a $10.59 average for all of 1975 ($8.31 plus $2.28 fringe benefit).

The AISI figures for 1975, excluding the approximate average of $2.28 per hour in employment costs for pensions, insurance, social security and unemployment benefits, also showed that for 1975:

—Domestic producers paid out $449,064,000 to 319,900 employees who worked a total of 50,352,000 hours on hourly piecework, or tonnage rates. The average hours per week per employee came to 35.5 hours.

—Domestic producers paid out a grand total of $642,825,000 in wages and salaries to their 433,000 employees. This comes out to an average of 36 hours per week per employee and includes all persons employed by mills in the production and marketing of steel. It does not include those in mining, fabrication and other non-steel operations.

Home sale can reduce tax bite

In some situations, taxpayers can defer part or all of the tax liability from capital gains. Taxpayers over the age of 65 may also have an additional tax break coming if they sell a personal residence.

The Illinois State Bar Association says the deferral on capital gains is available to all taxpayers who sell or exchange their personal residences and meet the following conditions:

1. The taxpayer purchases and occupies another residence within 18 months before or after the date of sale; or
2. The taxpayer begins construction or reconstruction of a new principal residence within 18 months before or after the date of sale, and occupies it not later than 24 months after the sale.

The capital gains tax applies to that portion of the sale price of the old residence, less selling expenses and "fixing-up" expenses, that is above the original cost of the residence.

Expenses for "fixing-up" the residence for sale (painting, repairs, etc.) can be deducted from the sales price if they are performed within 90 days before the taxpayer contracts to sell the home and if the work was paid for within 30 days after the sale.

Internal Revenue Service Publication 523 offers information pertinent to the tax consequences of selling a home. A taxpayer who is 65 years of age or older before the date of sale may be able to exclude part or all of the gain on the sale of a residence from gross income. The only specific requirement is that the taxpayer must have owned and used the property sold as a principal residence for at least five years out of the eight years preceding the date of sale.

It is not necessary that the home is the principal residence at the time of the actual sale, as long as the above condition is met.

If the adjusted sale price of the old residence is $20,000 or less, the taxpayer 65 or older may exclude the entire gain. If the adjusted sale price was greater than $20,000, the taxpayer can exclude a portion of the gain.

This benefit is available in addition to the previously explained deferral, and is available to persons 65 or older only once in the lifetime of a taxpayer.

The IRS reminds person who purchased newly constructed residences after March 12, 1975, that there is a credit of up to five per cent available on 1975 taxes.

If the residence was constructed or under construction before March 26, 1975, a credit of five per cent of the purchase price up to a maximum of $2,000 is available, if filing jointly ($1,000 if married and filing separate returns).
